Asquith Tells House English Losses in Prolonged Battle Have Been Very Heavy — Austria Declares War Against Belgium in Support of Kaiser.

By Associated Press.

London, August 28.—Bulletin.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says that a dispatch received there from Vienna states that Austria has declared war on Belgium. The American Minister in Belgium has been asked to take charge of Austrian interests there.

By Associated Press.

Berlin—via wireless to the Associated Press, via Sayville, L. I., Aug. 28.—Headquarters has issued an official report declaring that the western enemy has everywhere been defeated and is in full retreat after nine days fighting. General Von Kluk dominated the English army at Maubeuge, renewed the attack today and threatened to surround it.

Generals Von Buelow and Von Hasen completely dominated the Franco-Belgian forces, about eight army corps, between the Sambre and Namur, and the Meuse, in a several day battle and are now pursuing them to the eastward of Maubeuge. The attack on Maubeuge was opened by the Grand Duke Albrecht of Wuertemberg who defeated and pursued the army across the Semois and the Meuse.

The German Crown Prince is advancing toward the Meuse and the Crown Prince of Bavaria repulsed an attack from Nance and the South.

General Von Heeringen continued the pursuit southward through the Vosges. Four Belgian divisions attacking, Tuesday and Wednesday, from Antwerp, have been repulsed, losing guns and many prisoners. The Belgian population, generally, participated in the fighting, necessitating severe repressive measures. The corps of the last reserve have been called out to guard communications.

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 28.—A dispatch to the Times from Boulogne says it is asserted that German troops, presumably cavalry, broke through the French lines near Arras. The French moved up with rapidity, it is declared, and have the situation well in hand. The dispatch says the allied troops are being swiftly arranged to deal with any further attempts to break through the line between Dunkirk and Lille.

Arras is 100 miles northeast of Paris, the birthplace of Robespierre.

ENGLISH OCCUPYING OSTEND

London, August 28.—The British marines in force are now in control of Ostend, says a dispatch from that place to the Times. They continued landing all day yesterday and several quick-firing guns were brought ashore early today.

The men present a splendid appearance and all are eager for a speedy meeting with the enemy. The work of disembarkation is proceeding with smoothness and precision.

CONFLICT SPREADS TO CONGO

Paris, August 28.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Libreville, in the French Congo, says that the Belgian Congo has been attacked by German troops.

The Belgian administration, in accord with Great Britain, has taken defensive measures and has informed the French government of its action.

RUSSIAN SUCCESS AROUSES KAISER

London, August 28.—The Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "A dispatch from Berlin states that Emperor William has telegraphed his council of ministers charging the council with the immediate organization of all possible relief for the population of his beloved province of Prussia."

ENGLISH LOSSES HEAVY

London, Aug. 28.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons today that the British troops in Wednesday's fighting, were exposed to the attack of five German army corps. The losses on both sides, he said, were great.

The Russians have established postal service in East Prussia and Russian stamps are used.

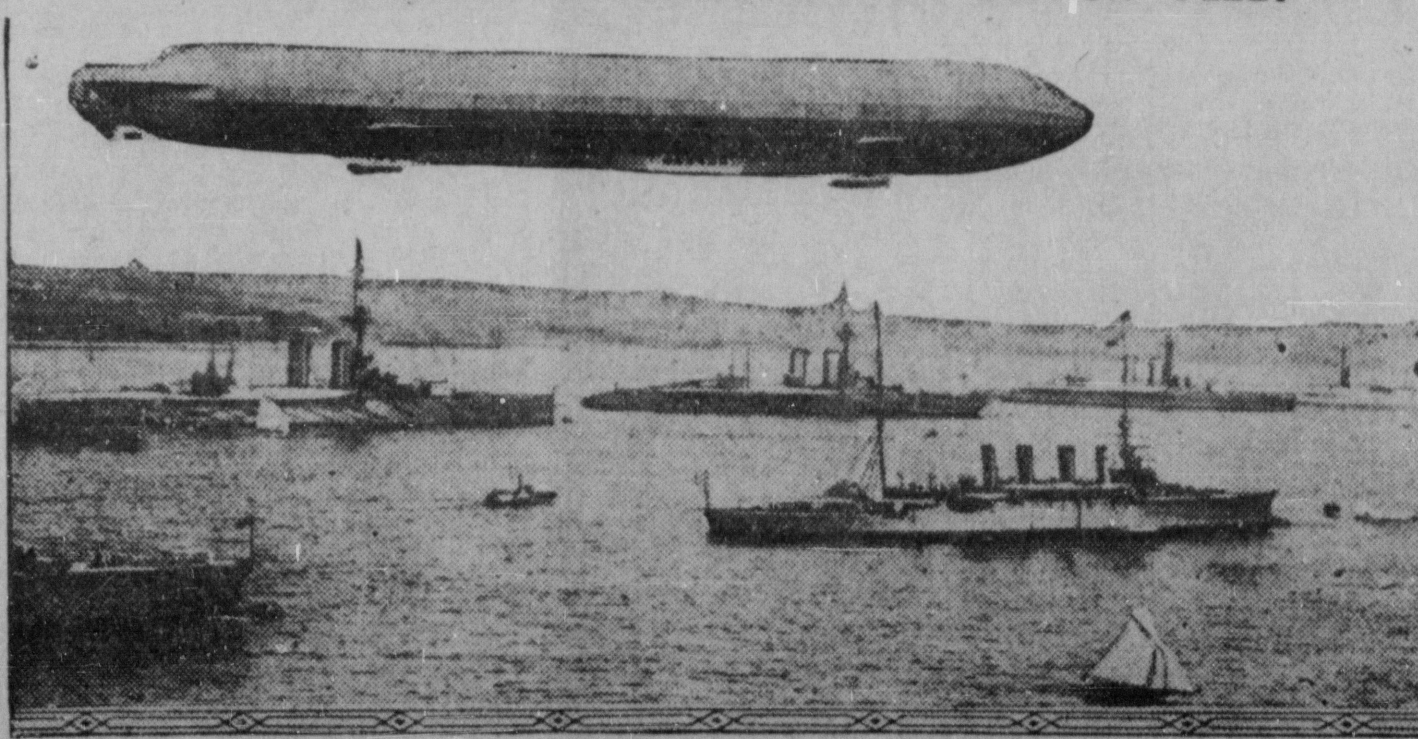

10 MILLION RUSSIANS ARMED ENGLAND MISSES WAR NEWS

By Associated Press.

London, August 28.—No news reached London today concerning the trend of events on any part of the battle line where fighting is in progress. Interest here is intense for it is felt that the engagements now going on must have a great influence on the fate of Paris. Silence also veils the progress of events in east Prussia. Ten million Russian soldiers have been enrolled under the standard of Emperor Nicholas, according to staff officers of the Russian army, who have arrived here from St. Petersburg. At sea, also, Russia seems to be waking up. The sinking of the German cruiser, Magdeburg reported yesterday, is hailed here as significant and as showing that the Russian navy is no longer bottled up in the Gulf of Finland as reported.

SOCIALISTS READY TO FIGHT WITH FRANCE

By Associated Press.

Paris, August 28.—The Socialist party issued a manifesto requesting M. Guesde to join the new cabinet of M. Viviani. "At a time when the future of the nation and the life of France is at stake," M. Guesde accepted membership in the cabinet without portfolio Wednesday night.

"At a time when the centers of industry and commercial life in France is threatened," the portfolio said, "national unity must be displayed in all its power. The head of the government thought that, in order to sustain the nation in the contest, he required the support of all, particularly of those who, on behalf of the emancipated proletariat, dread the crushing power of despotism." The manifesto adds that the Socialist ministers will see that the truth is told, will show that the republic is ready to fight to a finish and will make the production of arms and ammunition proceed more actively. "The Socialists feel," it adds, "that they are fighting not only for the greatness of France, but also for the liberty of the republic and civilization, so that the world may enjoy peace."

RUSSIA REPORTS SUCCESSES

Advance in East Prussia Continues, the Czar Expecting to Invest Berlin in Three Weeks—British Marines Land at Ostend, on the Belgian Coast — Austrian-Italian Relations Continue Strained—Forts at Namur Reduced.

London, Aug. 28.—Although the French forces have maintained their strong offensive movement between Nancy and the Vosges for five days, the onslaught of the heavy German army of invasion to the north has succeeded in breaking the allies' defense into French territory on both wings.

The fall of Longwy, an old French fortress on the Luxembourg frontier, was announced by the French war office, which added that half the garrison had been killed or wounded after a desperate resistance of twenty-four days.

Dispatches from Ostend say that the Germans have captured Lille, Valenciennes and Roubaix, French cities a few miles inside the frontier in the north. The British war office has maintained silence in the face of this report, for which no confirmation has yet been received.

Lille is an important manufacturing town and is strongly fortified. Twenty forts surround the city in a twenty mile circle. French reservists were supposed to be defending the place. Valenciennes is also an important French city, but is not fortified, though large barracks and an arsenal are located there. Roubaix is a town just northeast of Lille.

The first lord of admiralty, Winston Churchill, announced in the house of commons that British marines had been landed at Ostend, on the Belgian coast. The German forces had been reported close to the city, and the British military authorities feared it would be used as a base for Zeppelin raids on England if the enemy captured it. The strength of the marine detachment was not given out, but it is supposed to be considerable. It is believed here that the war office is sending another British expeditionary force to the continent. In support of this is the admiralty notice that Southampton has again been closed to shipping. This course was adopted when the first expeditionary army under General Sir John French was sent to France.

General Gallieni, the new governor of Paris, has taken steps to put the capital in condition to withstand a siege and assault and is to make of it a veritable entrenched camp.

Forts of Namur Reduced. From Berlin a wireless message has been received announcing that all the forts at Namur have fallen and that Longwy, near the Luxembourg border, has been captured after a "resolute defense." The message also says that the French army which attacked the army of the crown prince has been repulsed, and that Haute, Alsace, is virtually free of French troops.

From other sources come reports that six of the nine forts at Namur are still holding out, although the Germans have apparently occupied the city itself.

A dispatch from Ostend tells of the remarkable scenes in the city and says that the French troops arrived there too late to do any good. The Germans bombarded three forts for two days, putting two out of commission and damaging the third. It is reported that the Germans used eleven-inch siege guns in this work.

The Austro-Italian situation is important again. Italy has summoned her reservists to the colors and the Austrians are reported to be mobilizing troops on the Italian border. It is evident that the relations between the two countries are becoming more strained every hour. From St. Petersburg come announcements of the continued success of the Russian advance in East Prussia and the statements that the Russians expect to be investing Berlin in three weeks.

London, Aug. 28.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons that "the position of the British troops is satisfactory." The prime minister said Field Marshal Sir John French of the English forces reported he had been engaged in battle in Belgium against superior German forces. The British troops fought splendidly, it is reported, and General French considered the prospects in the impending battle satisfactory.

France abandoned the fortified city of Lille, of 220,000 inhabitants, and Roubaix and Valenciennes, just inside the Belgian frontier, to the advancing Germans without striking a blow, a dispatch to Ostend says.

French and British forces in great numbers are concentrated at Arras, chosen as the best strategic point at which to halt the 750,000 Germans advancing from Belgium. The war press bureau says the troops retired from before Lille in accordance with a prearranged scheme of campaign.

ENGLISH FEAR GERMAN BIRDS

London, Aug. 28.—A strong force of British marines has been landed at Ostend and there are indications that another expeditionary force is being sent to the continent, either to Ostend or to the coast farther south. The step was taken because Great Britain was fearful of raids from German airships if the Germans occupied a coast town across the channel. Ostend is only sixty-six miles from England, and the war office decided to establish a strong post there as a preventive measure. The British forces can now co-operate with the Belgian army and should prove a serious menace to the right flank of the German army which is swinging into France through Lille.

MILLIONS MARCH ON CAPITAL

London, Aug. 28.—Russia's advance in East Prussia on a prearranged scale which calls for the siege of Berlin in three weeks continues untarried, an official dispatch from Paris announces. The czar is invading Germany with 2,000,000 men, behind whom it is said are three lines of reserves, each of 2,000,000 men. It is officially stated in St. Petersburg that the attacking force will be kept constantly at the maximum of 2,000,000 as reinforcements are needed.

Paris reports an important Russian victory in the region of Mazuren, eastern Prussia. More than 100 cannon were taken from the Germans.

Tires at Before = War Prices

Goodyear Prices It Is Folly Today to Pay More

There exists now a new, compelling reason for buying Goodyear tires. It results from war conditions.

These leading tires—built of extra-fine rubber, in the same way as always—are selling today at June prices.

You will find today a very wide difference between most tire prices and Goodyears.

Due To Quick Action

Early in August—when war began—the world's rubber markets seemed closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost over night.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others—in that panic—were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought—before the advance—1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra grade rubber obtainable abroad.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio

Today we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. So we are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it had been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best.

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade rubber.

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we pledged you the same grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep them there.

We accept no excessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

That means that Goodyears—the best tires built—are selling way below other tires.

TRAGIC LAUGHTER.

Vibration and Nitroglycerin Form a Perilous Combination.

An accident, said to be the most extraordinary on record, occurred at some oil fields in the Baku district of Russia, on the borders of the Caspian sea. One of the big "gusher" oil wells became choked, and, with a view of blowing it clear, a number of iron drums full of nitroglycerin were brought down by rail from Derbent and deposited overnight in a large shed which was used by the men as a sort of canteen.

The steward of this establishment, a Greek named Darios, opened one of the drums for some reason best known to himself and decanted a small quantity of the dangerous liquid into a long, thin glass used for mixing vodka. This he placed on a shelf behind the bar. Shortly afterward there entered a workman named Borkovitch, who was famous for the boisterous hilarity of his manner and especially for his loud, resonant laughter.

The sight of nitroglycerin in a vodka tumbler so excited his risibility that he gave vent to a series of stentorian guffaws. This set the half-filled glass "ringing," and the treacherous contents immediately exploded.

The concussion sufficed, in its turn, to explode the rest of the stuff in the drums, entirely demolishing the shed and killing five persons, all who were in it at the time. The barman escaped through having gone down into the cellar just previously, whence he distinctly heard the laughter, followed by the musical "ringing" of the thin tumbler and the two explosions.—Pearson's Weekly.

United States Share in Peace

Standing out as a subject of absorbing interest to citizens of the United States and hardly of less importance to the nations of the world, is the attitude of the United States and its great power in connection with the issues of the European war.

H. G. Wells, the well known writer, makes the strong assertion that the ultimate issue of the European war rests with the United States.

By cable to the Chicago Tribune, Mr. Wells appeals directly to the United States urging that it throw the weight of its enormous power into the balance for the world's peace, and sends his appeal from Great Britain.

Mr. Wells, after referring to the many years in which Europe has been an armed camp, with millions of men continually under arms, with everything pinched but the equipment for war and social development retarded, comes to the immediate substance of his appeal when he says: "We are fighting to break this huge fighting machine forever; this machine which has been such an oppression as no native born American can dream of the every other nation in Europe."

Mr. Wells makes the assertion on behalf of the English that it is the government of the German Emperor which for the last forty years has taken the lead and forced the pace in these matters and that all Europe has been uneasy and in fear through declared contempt for treaties and pledges. He says in part: "Let us not attempt to deny the greatness of Germany and Germany's contributions to science, literature, art and all that is good in human life. But evil influence may over-shadow the finest people. Since the victories of 1871 Germany has been obsessed by worship of material power and glory and threateningly over bearing to all the world. 'Recently there has not been a country in Europe that has not shown itself resentful under this perpetual menace of Germany.'"

Mr. Wells disclaims the purpose of asking from the United States military help, but urges it aid in other ways to establish a new Europe, "a Europe ridded of rankling oppressions with a free Poland, a free Finland, free Germany and the Balkan question settled, the little nations safe and with peace secure."

The writer begs that the United States refuse to engage in such enterprises as are not for the ultimate peace of the world and protests against its snatching advantages "to play the part of a merely numerous little people, cute at trading to give your people immediate profits."

In closing the appeal says, "Are you prepared to take the lead among nations to which your greatness and freedom point you? It is not for ourselves we make this appeal. It is for the whole future of mankind. And we make it with more assurance because already your government has stood for peace and observance of treaties against base advantages."

The appeal in its presentation of Great Britain's position and sentiment in regard to the United States, offers material for large reflection and argument.

THE AUTUMN GLORY.

Oh, the olden, golden glory
With the autumn poms unfurled,
Mantling every hilltop hoary,
Flaming up and down the world!

Scarlet bough and crimson creeper,
Burning branch and kindling spire,
Dawn on dawning groving deeper
With the transitory fire!

Morn on morn a radiant shaping
Of a pageantry sublime;
Eve on eve a rapt redraping
Of the tapestries of time!

Not for one this sweeping wonder,
Bloom of beauty—not for one,
But for all men dwelling under
The dominion of the sun.

For from some celestial portal,
Whence all earthly splendors be,
Comes a voice to every mortal:
"Lo, lift up thine eyes, and see!"

ARMY POST HAZING

A Very Raw Recruit Who Got a Very Warm Reception.

HIS CLASH WITH "OLD BULL."

After the Quite Informal Introduction to the Colonel Was Effected the Tables Turned and "Corporal Suds" Got a Dose of His Own Medicine.

General E. V. Sumner, who was long colonel in command of the "Fighting Seventh" cavalry, was known to the rank and file of his regiment as "Old Bull." His gruff manners may have had something to do with the nickname, but it came to him fairly by inheritance. His father, General Sumner, bore it before him.

When the Seventh was stationed at Fort Grant, Arizona, a very raw recruit was sent on from Kansas City. As usual, the men persecuted him from the start. He returned meekly from the ordnance stores with the information that "left handed ramrods" were all gone; without batting an eyelash he reported that the sergeant in charge of the post exchange swore at him when he applied for his "butter checks." They took his last two bits away from him in the canteen in some hoctus pocus game. After supper he was "blanket tossed" until the arms of the tossers grew weary, and three times that night his bunk collapsed amid roars of merriment. The recruit then gave up the struggle and lay shivering upon the floor until morning.

He neither murmured nor complained. In fact, he seemed to be so unsophisticated that when he asked his room corporal where he could have some washing done the corporal, with a jerk of his thumb, indicated the commanding officer's house on the corner of the parade. "Go over to that big house," the corporal directed. "Take your bundle with you and ask for Old Bull. He takes in all the washin' at this post."

Grasping his little bundle, the green lad from Kansas City shuffled across the parade, mounted the colonel's front stoop and innocently pulled the doorbell. The joke was an old one, as Old Bull had never been known to answer the bell in person, and more than one recruit had learned the way to "Suds row" after a tongue lashing from the commandant's dusky maid of all work. And as she had threatened to scald the next man who bothered her about his washing the tip was passed along from troop to troop, and the men swarmed out on the verandas to see the fun.

But just as the recruit pulled the bell who should step out but Old Bull himself, booted and spurred for his morning ride.

"What do you want here?" he thundered, surprised to see an enlisted man at his front door.

"I—I—I wanted to see about gettin' these sh-shirts and socks done up, m-mister," stammered the frightened recruit. "They told me to come over here and ask for Old Bull," he added.

"Well, I'm Old Bull!" roared the colonel. "You come along with me and point out the man that sent you over here," he went on as he grasped the astonished youth and hurried him toward the troop quarters.

The crowds upon the verandas melted away as Colonel Sumner approached, but the guilty corporal was found lurking in the troop barber shop. Some heated language ensued, and then at the end of the painful interview Old Bull delivered himself thus:

"Corporal, I ought to have you court-martialed. I could have your stripes taken away and see that you got about thirty days into the bargain or I could have you fined. But you've been one of my best noncoms. You're always sober and a good shot, and so I'm not going to take your chevrons, your liberty or your money away from you. But since you're such an expert on laundry matters I order you to do this man's washing on the front porch of these quarters every Monday morning at guard mount.

"And you," he bellowed, turning to the recruit and shaking his gauntlets at him, "you see that you have at least two suits of underclothes and seven pairs of socks for him every week. And if he don't wash 'em clean you report to Old Bull, that's me!"

And thereafter for several months, until a band of Tonto basin Apaches went on a rampage and gave them more serious things to think about, the men of the Seventh looked forward happily to Monday morning guard mount. The noncommissioned laundryman became known as "Corporal Suds" and was teased about the affair until the day a piece of Spanish shrapnel cut short his existence.—Youth's Companion.

HISTORY AND A PICTURE.

Cornwallis and His Sword After the Fall of Yorktown.

Art is not always true to history. Schoolboys of several generations are familiar with the picture of Cornwallis surrendering his sword to Washington after the fall of Yorktown. Lord Cornwallis is revealed in the act of passing over his beautiful sword to the hand of his conqueror. The inference is that Washington took the sword and kept it as a trophy of victory. The facts are quite otherwise.

Cornwallis, proud even in defeat, declined to put in a personal appearance on the occasion of his surrender. The allied forces, American and French, who had besieged him for thirteen days, were drawn up in two columns along the road leading to Hampton. Rochambeau, on a fine bay horse, was at the head of the French column. On his white charger sat Washington at the head of the American troops. The surrendered British and Hessians marched out of their intrenchments and passed down between the two columns.

Many thousands of Virginia citizens were gathered to watch the scene, all eager to get a glimpse of Lord Cornwallis. But they were disappointed in that. Cornwallis pleaded indisposition and stayed in his quarters. He sent his sword by one of his officers, General O'Hara, to be delivered up to Washington. General O'Hara offered the sword to Washington, who directed him to General Lincoln, the officer whom Washington had appointed to conduct the surrender. Lincoln took the sword from O'Hara's hand and then politely handed it back, to be returned to Cornwallis.

TREES FULL OF FAT.

Some of Them Yield a Pretty Fair Substitute For Butter.

There are several trees that yield an oily substance much resembling butter and making a good substitute for it. Some of these grow in Europe, but the best known species are natives of Africa and South America.

The Bassia butyacea, or the "shea butter," as it is commonly called, grows wild on the west coast of Africa. The butter obtained from this tree is derived by pounding and pressing the seeds, which are three inches long. When extracted the oil assumes the consistency of butter and smells like chocolate. Not only is it an excellent article of food, but it is used extensively for the making of soap and candles.

The seeds of the crab tree of Brazil and Gulania are 70 per cent fat, and the "crab wood tallow" derived from them is excellent for the manufacture of candles and soap. When boiled the tallow turns out yellow butter which contains a small quantity of strychnine. The latter, however, is easily removed by prolonged boiling.

From the nutmeg a useful fat is obtained. The nutmegs which have been broken or damaged by insects are roasted, ground and pressed for the fat, which is used for cosmetic and medicinal purposes.

A tree abounding in the forests of Africa and called by Kaffirs "ehignite" yields (from the fruit or bark, the exact source being unknown) a white butter-like substance which constitutes an important article of commerce on that continent.—New York World.

A Fleeting Observation.

He was a college professor, greatly beloved because of his kind heart, but with the common scholastic failing of being very absentminded. He visited his married niece and listened to her praise of her first born. When she paused for breath the professor felt that he must say something.

"Can the little fellow walk?" he asked, with every appearance of interest.

"Walk!" cried the mother indignantly. "Why, he's been walking now for five months."

"Dear me!" exclaimed the professor, again relapsing into abstraction. "What a long way he must have gone!"—New York Globe.

Labouchere's Complaint.

If people banished from their tables all the commodities which, like salt, have been condemned in print their diet would be decidedly monotonous. "Food faddists are most aggressive persons," Henry Labouchere once complained. "In my time I have known them to preach that we should give up meat, tobacco, soup, starch (including bread and potatoes), salt, tomatoes, bananas, strawberries and bath buns. I have also witnessed movements for giving up boots, waistcoats, hats, overcoats, carpets, feather beds, spring mattresses, cold baths, linen clothes, woolen clothes, sleeping more than six hours, sleeping less than nine hours and lighting fires at the bottom."

United States May Become World Banker

By Sir GEORGE PAISH, Noted English Economist

THE mischief and injury a great European war will cause will be greatly minimized if American bankers and investors are as courageous as English bankers and investors have been in the past. IN BRIEF, A GREAT WAR IN EUROPE WILL GIVE THE UNITED STATES AN OPPORTUNITY OF ASSUMING THE POSITION OF WORLD BANKER BY SUPPLYING CAPITAL FREELY TO COUNTRIES AND INDIVIDUALS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD WHO NEED IT AND CAN PROVIDE THE REQUIRED SECURITY. SHOULD THE AMERICAN PEOPLE TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY THUS AFFORDED, THEN THE OUTBREAK OF WAR IN EUROPE WILL MEAN NOT DIMINISHED BUT INCREASED PROSPERITY FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

German Aeroplanes May Decide European War

By Representative RAINEY of Illinois

GERMAN aeroplanes may be the decisive force in a general European war. British Dreadnoughts might amount to nothing and might have to be retired as land defenses if the kaiser's aeroplane force conducts a twentieth century war.

SEVERAL ENGLISH MILITARY AND NAVAL AUTHORITIES HAVE CONTENDED ENGLAND'S GREAT DREADNOUGHTS WOULD BE A HANDICAP IN MODERN WARFARE. USE OF BOMBS WOULD HAVE A DISASTROUS EFFECT ON ANY NAVY, BUT MINES WOULD BE WORTHLESS. WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY MIGHT MAKE THIS WAR THE QUICKEST OF ANY IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD BECAUSE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH RAPID COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE POWERS WHICH ARE SIDING TOGETHER.

ONE MAN PLEADS GUILTY AND DRAWS FINE OF $200

George Scott Is Bootlegger Who Takes First Fine and Tobias Peoples Announces Willingness to Plead Guilty—One Man Closes Place of Business and Flees—Other Affidavits in Hands of the Authorities.

Already one man has entered a plea of guilty and a second has signified his intention to do so as a result of the recent arrests on charges of violating the local option law by selling intoxicants.

George Scott is the man who is first to plead guilty, and upon his plea of guilty Mayor Coffey promptly imposed a fine of $200 and the costs, and will suspend a portion of the fine.

It is claimed that not only has Scott entered a plea of guilty to the charge of selling whiskey to L. R. Rowe, but has filed affidavits against men whom he is alleged to have aided in bootlegging. The affidavits are expected to come to light later.

Scott was remanded back to the county jail to remain temporarily until final disposition can be made of his case.

Tobias Peoples has signified his willingness to plead guilty to the charge against him, but up to two o'clock Friday afternoon had not been taken before Mayor Coffey to be fined.

Peoples was released soon after arrest so that he might obtain bond for his release, but Thursday afternoon the police received a tip that Peoples was packing up his belongings with a view to giving the police the slip.

The net was spread and a short time later Chief Moore placed the man under arrest and he was escorted to the county jail to await his appearance to answer to the charge against him.

The efforts to make a get-away indicated that the man was not at all anxious to face the charge against him, and Chief Moore was not surprised when the man later expressed a willingness to plead guilty, providing he could pay his fine in installments agreeable to himself but not to Mayor Coffey.

Peoples is one of those against whom other charges may be filed before he is released from the toils of the law.

"We have landed some really 'big game' in bootlegging circles," said Mayor Coffey Friday while discussing the recent arrests. "We have the goods on them, and they will be dealt with accordingly," he continued. He also stated that no light fines would follow convictions.

One of the numerous affidavits still in hands of the police is for a colored man whose place of business has been closed up, and the man succeeded in leaving the city before arrest was made. Sleuths of other cities will be asked to locate the man so that he may be returned to this city to face the charges.

SLIGHT HOPE FOR RECOVERY

Two Men Who Were Injured in Automobile Accident When Three Companions Were Killed at Leesburg, Still in Serious Condition.

Reports from Leesburg are to the effect that Charles E. Hixon and James Adams, the two men who were dangerously injured when their three companions, George Haas, Chas. Dewey and R. E. Bonney were almost instantly killed when a B. & O. fast train struck their automobile, are still in a very serious condition, with little hope of their recovery.

Mr. Adams was removed from the Betts hospital, Cincinnati, to his home a few days ago, but he is still at death's door. During his conscious moments he had pleaded to be taken home, and his pleadings became so constant that he was eventually removed.

From the hospital come reports that Mr. Hixon has no chance of recovery, and that his death is a question of but a few days. He has lain in a stupor for some time, and no one but the physicians and nurses are permitted to see him. It is believed that pneumonia has set in.

Both men have been growing worse since the latter part of last week, and present indications are that the accident will yet result in the death of all five men.

DEATH CALLS AT ADVANCED AGE

After a life well rounded towards the century milestone, Mrs. Angeline Jacobs, wife of B. F. Jacobs, died Thursday evening at 6:45, at her home near Parrett's Station.

Mrs. Jacobs was past 86 years of age and one of the oldest residents of the county; born in Dover, Del., and coming to Fayette county, when only ten years old. Her husband is the only Mexican soldier living in this county. She leaves besides her husband two children, Frank Jacobs, of Parretts, and Mrs. Leno McKenzie, of Lynchburg. She was a sister of the late George Bryan.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. at the residence. Burial in Creamer cemetery.

STREET STREAMERS CAUSING COMMENT

Huge streamers suspended over one of the city's principal streets and advertising an out-of-town event which means little or nothing of benefit to the city, as one of the present day sights in Washington, and is the cause of a great deal of comment.

"Could Washington obtain the streets of other cities to boost something that detracts from the other cities?" is the question which has arisen in the minds of local citizens.

BIG BATTLE AMONG HILLS PLANNED FOR THIS EVENING

Men of Fourth in Good Condition and Eager For Fray Which is Expected to Last Far Into the Night—One Man Reported to Have Lost Portion of Ear During One of the Spirited Attacks.

The rain of Friday morning was not so disagreeable to members of the Fourth regiment, owing to the fact that the large shelter tents were ready for use, and it was not necessary for the boys to seek shelter under the "pup" tents as earlier in the week.

The men did not get into the shelter tents until Thursday, as a result of having no stakes for the large tents—according to report from the field of action.

The presence of the Fourth at Maple Grove—the camp being pitched immediately in front of the hotel—has drawn a great many guests to the hotels, and many visitors from this city are included among the guests.

So far all members of Company M are in good health, and the camp is moving forward very successfully. The only accidents to date was when Golfer's Great Catch.

A good story is told of the late William Mollison, the actor. Playing on a Tayside links, he was driving off at the seventh hole (which stands on a high embankment with a burn in front), and after the usual waggle, he let go. But the head of his driver was loose. It came off and went into the burn and left him with nothing but the shaft, with the whipping straightened out—one end attached to the shaft and the other to the head of the club. There he stood a la anglie, then he was heard to shout to his caddie: "Get the landing net ready, you fool! I've got a ten pounder here!"—World of Golf.

In Social Circles

Mrs. O. L. Blackmore delightfully entertained twenty girls and boys Thursday afternoon, in honor of the thirteenth birthday of her son, Herbert.

The young people spent a merry afternoon in outdoor games and music and a delicious supper, served in the garden, proved the climax of the good time.

Mrs. Elmer Tracey and Miss Audrey Gibson assisted Mrs. Blackmore in entertaining the children.

The guests were: Norma Dodd, Mildred Eddy, Lavon Kelley, Dorothy Parrott, Leona Gibson, Gladys Bailey, Jane Sever, Ethlyn Morgan, Grace Rhoades, Imogene DeVees, Joe Wilson, Ira Barchet, Frank and Forster Beck, Robert Tracey, Russel Dern, Tom Rogers, Grove Davis, Harold Maddox, Martin Van Pelt.

The young host received a number of birthday gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frazer, of Mr. and Mrs. guests of honor at an informal three table bridge of charming appointments, given by Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maynard, Thursday night.

The additional guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. Werter Shoop, Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Gerie Spragg, Miss Florence Ustick.

An elaborate six o'clock dinner of perfect appointments was given by Miss Jane Saxton Thursday evening, in compliment to Miss Edith Rauch, of Norwood; Miss Lucy Edna Pine's guest. The table was laid with eight covers, and a rose and white color scheme artistically carried out in a centerpiece of asters and Kilarney roses and the place cards.

Seated with the hostess and honor guest were Misses Lucy Edna Pine, Evelyn Ross, Ruth Smith, Helen Harris, Nina Dahl, Helen Arehart.

Miss Saxton was lovely in white voile, with old rose polka dot, and touch of blue.

Miss Rauch was wearing an exquisite white gown of embroidered silk tissue with blue crepe border.

No affair of the younger set has been more brilliant nor fraught with more pleasure than the Kensington, at which Miss Margaret Mark entertained forty of the buds Friday afternoon.

Withal the steady down pour of rain the guests arrived in the gayest of spirits and found the cordial atmosphere of the home ample compensation for the inconvenience of the weather.

The fragrance of flowers and the delicious luncheon served, added to the pleasure of the affair.

Miss Mark was looking as pretty as a picture in a gown of white crepe voile, with tunic and butterfly bow of lace, and black and white girdle.

Receiving with her was a quartet of attractive girls in smart summer toilets, Misses Dorothy Fullerton, Ada Woodward, Ruth Parrett and Lucile Chapman.

Mrs. Fred M. Mark assisted in the hospitalities.

Among the guests were Miss Corinne Ware, of Marshall, Tenn.; Miss Edith Rauch, of Norwood; Miss Pauline Joseph and Miss Coffey, of Columbus; Miss Stella Rogers, of Bloomingburg.

In honor of her sixteenth birthday, Miss Dorothy Rogers gave a beautiful little dinner at six o'clock Thursday evening. A graceful arrangement of nasturtiums and training green formed central embellishment of the table, laid with six covers.

The guests were Misses Ruth Reid, Juanita Haines, Gretchen Willis, Ruth Brownell, Kathleen Davis.

Mrs. Charles Lininger, who was operated upon at the Fayette hospital Wednesday, is still in a very critical condition, although her condition shows some improvement.

Mrs. Jerome Dick goes to Austin this evening to visit relatives there and at Frankfort for a few days. Mr. Dick joins her Saturday evening to spend Sunday.

Miss Edith Rauch returned to her home in Norwood Friday, after a three weeks' visit with Miss Lucy Edna Pine.

Mr. T. H. Craig was a business visitor in Columbus Thursday.

Dr. W. E. Ireland left Friday morning for Shelbyville, Ill., where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Roy Dove.

Mrs. Mary McBride has returned from a visit in Kansas City, and is spending the week at the home of Mr. Charles Stafford.

Mr. Marsh Willson and son, Asher, returned to their home in Boston, Mass., Thursday after a short visit with Mr. Willson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. N. Willson.

Mrs. Regina Staibus and two children, Richard and Leontine, are visiting Mrs. Lizzie E. Ustick and family in Columbus.

Mr. Fred M. Mark is a business visitor in Zanesville.

Misses Evelyn Ross and Helen Harper left Friday morning for Marysville, where they will be the guests of Miss Nina Sawyer.

Mrs. Frank M. Kennedy is a visitor in Columbus.

Miss Nina Bonham returned Friday from a visit in Cincinnati.

Among visitors at Maple Grove, taking in the Fourth regiment encampment, Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jackson, daughter, Miss Emma Jackson, guest Mrs. Mrs. Emma Jackson, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Miss Dorothy Fullerton, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughey, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Creamer, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thompson, Mrs. Alice Moorman, Mrs. H. H. Whelpley, Mr. Jas. Whelpley, daughters and guest, Mr. Otis Dunder, of Columbus; Dr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Mrs. Ella Stewart, son, Mr. Harry Stewart, Mrs. J. F. Dennis, Mrs. Lizzie Buck, Mr. Einar Jensen and party, Mrs. O. E. Hardway, Miss Arehart, Mrs. Tom Worthington, Miss McDowell, Misses Schryver and Hidy.

Charles Dore arrives from Cleveland Sunday to visit his aunts, Misses Kate and Mary Dore. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dore also arrived from Cleveland to be the Misses Dore's guests Sunday.

Mr. R. O. Young is a business visitor in Cincinnati today.

Miss Margaret Coffey, who has been the guest of Miss Stella Rogers, of Bloomingburg, returned to her home in Columbus Friday evening. Miss Rogers accompanied her and Misses Helen and Martha McCoy join them Saturday for a week end house party entertained by Miss Coffey.

Mr. George F. Robinson, who is a member of the National Executive Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, leaves Saturday for Detroit, Mich., to attend the National Encampment. His daughter, Miss Mary Robinson, accompanies him, and while there both will be guests of the city of Detroit at the Ponchartrain hotel. The trip will be made via Sandusky and the Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Blackmer spent the past two days at Maple Grove Springs, and visiting the encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fisher, of Sabina, have been on an enjoyable week's trip in their new Studebaker touring car. They made headquarters at St. Marys reservoir. Mrs. Fisher is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stafford.

Mr. Horace Wilson and family motored over to the London Fair Thursday.

Messrs Glenn Rogers and Joe Murphy have been business visitors in Cincinnati the past two days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Anderson were guests at the London fair Thursday.

DEMAND FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Visitors at Highland Caves Invariably Surprised at Little Accommodation Offered by Company Which Charges Fee to Sightseers But Does Little to Protect Them From Dangers and Inconveniences.

Washington citizens who have made trips to the famous Highland county caves near Bainbridge, are unanimous in the view which is also concurred in by practically all who visit the caves, that the company in charge of the caves should take greater precaution to prevent accidents at the caves.

At the present time, while the caves have been commercialized by a stock company, and a fee is charged to all who desire to visit the place, very little precaution has been taken to prevent serious accidents, and a single false step in some of the dangerous places would result in the death or serious injury of the sightseer, who has paid his or her fee to get a view of the caves.

So little precaution has been taken, and so few accommodations are offered that it might easily be said that none exist, and the question of why such conditions exist is invariably asked by the persons visiting the place.

Considering the large number of persons who each year visit the caves, it is little short of miraculous that there are not more serious accidents than what are recorded about the cliffs, dangerous underground passages, ways, and rocky roadways and pathways.

Within the next few years it is expected that the demand will be such that those in charge must furnish more and better accommodations, and light the caves by electricity so that the dangers of the place may be brought down to the minimum. When this is done, a much larger number of persons will annually view the scenery and pay their fee into the coffers of the company in charge.

WITH THE MANAGERS.

"Believe Me" has been under the eyes of envious managers ever since its first presentation to the public. Varied and many have the compliments been of the men who are ever on the alert for productions that will get them the houses. Managers who have seen this show realized instantly the merit of it as a money-getter and since the opening, the offers have been made numerous times for its purchase outright from the present owner. Aside from the desire to purchase, local Managers have been trying to get this attraction for their houses, and those who have been successful in procuring it can be congratulated upon securing something entirely worth while. After a consideration of this fact, attesting the delight with which those interested in the theatrical business have hailed the piece, and showing the big possibilities they can see in it, take a chance, and when the show visits your city on Tuesday, September 1, give it the greeting which it deserves and there is no question but that you will be of the opinion that it is a production of unusual merit, presented by the best balanced company ever in the town, and well worthy of the favorable and unanimous praise which has been bestowed all along the line.

FRENCH SURE OF VICTORY

Government Expresses Confidence In Its Troops.

WAR OFFICE AIRS THE SITUATION

Progress Made by France in the Region Between the Vosges and Nancy and Eastern Prussia in the Hands of the Russians—Constitution of New Ministry Gives General Satisfaction.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The ministry of war issued the following communiqué:

"Events in the northern region have not to any degree compromised nor modified the measures taken in view of the ulterior developments of the operations. In the region between the Vosges and Nancy our troops continue their progress. In eastern Prussia the Germans have evacuated the Mazurenland region after a Russian victory. The Russians have not experienced any arrest in this very difficult territory. It is confirmed that the Russians captured 100 cannon. In Galicia the Russian offensive pursues its course normally in the region south and southwest of Tarnopol. It is confirmed that Prince Ernest of Saxe-Meiningen has been seriously wounded and has been put in the hospital at Mauthege."

M. Millerand, the new minister of war, wrote General Joffre, expressing the government's confidence and admiration for the troops. "France is sure of victory because she is resolute to obtain it," he said.

The constitution of the new ministry gives general satisfaction here, as it combines the best men of all parties and makes what is regarded as a very necessary change in the ministry of war. Alexandre Millerand, the new minister of war, has already acted in this capacity in former cabinets. M. Delcasse, as the head of the foreign office, was at the head of this department at the time of the Moroccan affair, and he is greeted in this post all the more warmly now because he was the chief architect of the entente cordiale between France and Great Britain, which is a different understanding from the triple entente between these two countries and Russia.

M. Aristide Briand, the new minister of justice, is doubly welcomed in the new cabinet as the author of the three years' conscription bill when he was prime minister. The inclusion of two Socialists, Marcel Sebat and Jules Guesde, is regarded as a particularly happy combination.

Berlin, Aug. 28.—Complete victory over the allies in Belgium is officially announced. All the forts of Namur have fallen. Longwy, France, has been captured after a resolute defense.

MILLIONS FOR OVER SEA TRADE

Bill Appropriates $30,000,000 For Purchase of Vessels.

Washington, Aug. 28.—A bill authorizing an appropriation of $30,000,000 to enable the president to construct or purchase thirty naval auxiliaries that may be converted into merchantment for use in the over-sea trade during the war in Europe or like emergencies, has been completed and will soon be reported by the house committee on naval affairs. The bill provides that these vessels shall be turned over to the Panama Steamship and Railway company, a government owned concern, and that the company shall operate them in the coastwise trade of the United States or between American ports or ports of Central and South America and in the over-sea trade at the discretion of the president.

The bill prepared by the naval committee was drawn in accordance with directions given by the president. It is designed as a substitute for the bill recently passed by the senate authorizing the use of naval vessels for commerce between the United States and ports of Central and South America.

HOW BOMBS ARE DROPPED FROM DIRIGIBLES.

London, Aug. 28.—The method used by Zeppelin airships in dropping bombs has been described as follows by an English refugee who just arrived here from Belgium: The dirigible hovers over its objective at a sufficient altitude to keep it out of range of the enemy's guns. At the same time it lowers a steel cage attached to a wire rope 2,000 or 3,000 feet long. This cage is divided into compartments, and it carries one man, whose duty it is to throw down the bombs. The cage is sufficiently strong to make rifle fire against it ineffective, and because of its small size and the fact that it is kept constantly in motion, it is very difficult for heavy guns to hit it.

Size of the Sea.

An officer of a liner once remarked that most men seemed to be as ignorant about the size of the sea as they are of the distance between the heavenly planets. Here are a few facts: The Pacific covers 68,000,000 miles, the Atlantic 30,000,000 and the Indian ocean, Arctic and Antarctic 42,000,000. To stow away the contents of the Pacific it would be necessary to fill a tank one mile long, one mile wide and one mile deep every day for 440 years. Put in figures the Pacific holds in weight 948,000,000,000,000,000 tons. The Atlantic averages a depth of not quite three miles. Its waters weigh 325,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and a tank to contain it would have each of its sides forty-three miles long. The figures of the other oceans are in the same startling proportions. It would take all the sea water in the world 2,000,000 years to flow over Niagara.

The Hunter and the Wind.

In hunting against the wind in open forests more game is passed than many hunters would suppose. The animals see the man, note that he will pass them and hide by getting as near to the ground as possible. If they scent him after he has passed they evidently realize that the danger is over, though some, mostly the younger, inexperienced animals, then sneak off. Where game is very wild it is often in such localities as I have mentioned only possible to approach them with the wind by outdistancing the latter, because a big game animal at rest depends on its nose to save it from danger in the direction from which the wind comes and on its eyes to watch the side from which it can get no other warning.—"Track and Tracking," by Josef Brunner.

Worth of Icelandic Ponies.

Icelandic ponies aroused the admiration of the great traveler, Mme. Ida Pfeiffer. "In spite of scanty food," she wrote, "they have marvelous powers of endurance. They can travel from thirty-five to forty miles per diem for several consecutive days. They know by instinct the dangerous spots in the stormy wastes and in the moors and swamps. On approaching these places they bend their heads toward the earth and look sharply around on all sides. If they cannot discover a firm resting place for their feet they stop at once and cannot be urged forward without many blows."

SHIP BEACHES IN DENSE FOG

Berlin, Aug. 28.—The German admiralty has issued the following: "The light cruiser Magdeburg went ashore in a fog on the island of Odensholm, at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland. Her companion ships were unable to assist her and the efforts that were made to get the Magdeburg afloat failed. The captain of the Magdeburg decided to blow her up as a superior Russian naval force was preparing to attack her. A majority of the crew was saved by a torpedo boat under a heavy Russian fire. Seventeen were killed, twenty-one wounded and eighty-five are missing, including the captain. The survivors reached a German harbor."

The Man or the Gun?

The man rather than the gun is a nation's military asset, asserts H. G. Wells, whose essay on "The Common Sense of Warfare" is included in his book, "Social Forces in England and America." "Every penny," he says, "we divert from national wealth making to national weapons means so much less in resources, so much more strain in the years ahead. But a great system of laboratories and experimental stations, a systematic industrious increase of men of the officer-aviator type, of the research student type, of the engineer type, of the naval officer type, of the skilled sergeant instructor type, a methodical development of a common sentiment and a common zeal among such a body of men, is an added strength that grows greater from the moment you call it into being."

Enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is faith in action. "Faith believeth all things," Enthusiasm puts that belief to the test. The enthusiast believes that the thing can be done; he has faith to believe that it ought to be done; he has enthusiasm to do it. To the unthinking enthusiasm is but the foam on the deeply stirred waters. In truth it is the striving of the waters themselves. It is the very life of effort.—From "The Power of Mental Demand," by Herbert Edward Law.

PARIS FIXES FOR A SIEGE

Paris, Aug. 28.—Paris is rapidly being turned into a vast entrenched camp to resist any possible siege by the Germans. Alexandre Millerand, the new minister of war, conferred with the military chiefs in Paris and directed steps to meet all eventualities. General Gallieni, the new commander in chief of the army in Paris, is directing the measures to protect the city.

These steps were officially stated to be "only necessary precautions in conjunction with the military operations," but this announcement was not sufficient to calm the fears that had been aroused by the sudden formation of a new cabinet. It is expected that within twenty-four hours passenger train service will be practically suspended by a flood of freight traffic bringing to the capital supplies to stock the government storehouses. The freight trains are already being made up at towns in the centers of the agricultural districts.

FLOWERS AND FLAGS

DECORATE THE RACE TRACK AT THE STATE FAIR

Past flowers and flags the winners will race at Ohio State Fair. Visitors will this year see top notch racing over the finest race course in the world. There is none other like it.

Special effort has been made to make this the most unique and picturesque racing course in the world. The infield is decorated with large mounds fringed with flowers and flags.

"The Rainbow Comes Down in Ohio" is the legend on largest mound. A Horse Shoe, and a Four Leaf Clover are the flower signs on the other two.

A fringe of flowers and shrubs ornament the outer edge of the infield next to the track.

The Flag of Ohio and "Old Glory" will be in evidence.

Over Fifteen Thousand Factories in Ohio

Do you know what they are all making? Did you know that Ohio leads the country in the manufacture of carriages and wagons, of pottery and clay products, and a few other things? That it is second in automobiles?

What do you know about your state, in the lines of practical knowledge that every resident ought to know? It is impossible to remember much of the data that you read, of course, and you need your memory for things of immediate use in the task of earning your daily bread. Knowing where to find information and other matters, and having the means at your hand, is the important thing. That is what our OHIO ALMANAC has done for you. Men who know thoroughly the various departments of the history Ohio is making every day, have gathered the important facts together for you and put them into a book that is as concise as it is complete. The splendid index removes all possibility of tedium and delay in finding these facts.

And we offer this Handbook to you for 25c at our office, or by mail at 30c, postpaid.

"COZY" DOLAN OF THE CARDINALS IS MAKING RECORD ON THE BASES

St. Louis, August 28.—"Cozy" Dolan, outfielder for the Cardinals, is a man after Manager Huggins' own heart. He is always doing something once he gets on the bases. He lets the pitcher know early in the game that he does not intend to stand on the sack until a safe swat sends him on. He wants to rely on himself, so he usually sets sail for the next station. That station may be the home plate, for Dolan makes three base hits at times. But this does not scare Cozy. If the pitcher is careless or spends too much time winding up the fleet Cardinal is likely to steal home or to try to steal home. Huggins likes that style of play. It does not always prove successful, but Huggins says it helps to rattle the opposing pitcher, and rattled pitchers lose games.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

New Postmaster at Columbus.
Columbus, Aug. 28.—Samuel A.
Kinnear, director of public service,
will be recommended to the president for appointment as Columbus postmaster. This announcement was made by Congressman Brumbaugh, who has been here from Washington for several days for the purpose of determining upon the announcement.
The recommendation will be made at once, it is understood, after which President Wilson is expected to send
Mr. Kinnear's name to the senate for confirmation.

Epidemic of Colitis.
Lancaster, O., Aug. 28.—Thirteen deaths from colitis have occurred here during the last two weeks.
Nearly a score of people are suffering from the same malady and many of the cases are reported to be very critical. The use of city well water is attributed as one of the main causes of the epidemic.

Auto Driver Killed.
Cleveland, O., Aug. 28.—George
Coleman, thirty, salesman, is dead, and four other men who were riding with him in an automobile are suffering from injuries, as a result of the machine crashing into a farmer's wagon, east of Cleveland. The injured will recover.

England's Oldest Theater.
The village theater at Little Easton may be the oldest theater in use in England, but it is not the oldest in existence. Visitors in Dorchester can find there a wonderfully preserved Roman theater, designed, it has been estimated, to seat about 13,000 people and artfully arranged to have the sun behind the majority of them for the greater part of the day. And this theater has been used in comparatively modern times, for in 1705 10,000 people (alleged to be civilized) gathered there to witness the burning of a woman who had poisoned her husband.
—London Spectator.

To Lambaste.
"Lambaste" is a shewy, heroic word.
We prefer it to its variant "lambust."
And it is a word of respectable age.
"Stand off awhile and see how I'll lam-baste him" was written in 1637. It comes from the word "lam," to beat soundly, and "baste," which means the same thing. The tautology is here only intensive. But the word should always be spelled with a final "e."—London Standard.

TO SIDETRACK SECURITIES BILL

Washington, Aug. 28.—President Wilson practically yielded to the judgment of the Democratic leaders in congress and agreed to postpone the railroad securities bill. Senators and representatives advised the president that it would be wiser to take more time and investigate the railroad situation before legislating on stocks and bonds.

Grades of Lemons.
There are a good many interesting points about lemons. There are several qualities that combine to make a prime or fancy brand of lemons. A first class lemon must be free from specks, have a smooth skin of a pale yellow color and be very hard. Take a magnifying glass and you will see that the little black specks on the lemon that look like seeds are really parasites. They are called lemon lice, and a curious fact is that as soon as the lemon is cut from the tree these parasites die immediately.

The best fruit comes from a little place near Naples, Italy, called Maiori.
The next in grade comes from Sorrento. Those from Messina and Palermo are about the same quality and rank next, and those from Catania are inferior. The Maiori lemons are very carefully cultivated. They are on the trees even while the snow is still on the ground, but are kept covered with matting to protect them, not only from the cold, but from the scorching rays of the sun. They are nearly white when picked, very graceful and regular in shape and are exceedingly smooth and hard.—Spatula.

Insulted.
Here is an amusing instance of histrionic conceit. An interloper, having obtained access to the presence of a famous actor, asked the great man if he would be kind enough to describe some of his early failures.
"Sir," snapped the tragedian, "I never had any! James—the door!"

All Labor is Worthy.
There must be work done by the arms or none of us would live, and work done by the brains or the life would not be worth having.—Ruskin.

Where it Pinched.
"Don't it aggravate you that I ask you for twenty-five cents?"
"No, that does not aggravate me; it is the giving of it to you."—Paris

Y. M. C. A. PREPARING FOR WINTER SEASON

Approaching Fall and Winter Will be One of Unusual Activity in Y. M. C. A. Circles.

MANY NEW PROJECTS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Educational Features Will be Added—Membership Increasing—Dormitories Are Filling—Physical Department Buzzing—Woman's Class to Reorganize—Teams Are Getting Busy.

With the approach of the fall season the usual activity of preparation is resumed at the Y. M. C. A., this year coupled with the planning and preliminary work for the introduction of many new features in connection with the season's work.

The heads of the different departments and the members of the various committees are busily planning for the work before them and the next few weeks will be marked with many meetings and conclaves followed by the actual staging of the winter's work.

Educational Department.

In the Educational department a thorough and well systematized plan of action will be adopted. General Secretary Patton will take a great part in this branch of the program.

It has been practically decided that classes will be taught in book-keeping, stenography and mechanical drawing and proficient instructors will be secured to administer the training. Salesmanship instruction is also considered. Classes will be put on in any branch where ten or more members can be secured.

The educational feature of the season's work will be one of the chief subjects of discussion at the meeting of the board of directors next Wednesday evening.

Junior Department.

A number of changes are being considered in the Junior department. It is the object of the Junior heads to separate this branch of the association from that of the Seniors, as far as possible, and to form it into a solid and distinct organization. As a means of localizing the management of the Juniors and centering their interest the Y. M. C. A. plans to bring the body directly under the control of a cabinet composed of its own older members and under the indirect supervision of Mr. Patton, Physical Director McClung and Mr. B. F. Toops.

A meeting of these officials with some of the older boys will be held next week and a cabinet organized.

Physical Department.

Perhaps the greatest activity in Y. M. C. A. work during the coming month will be noticed in the physical department and Director McClung will have his hands full as the prospects look good for a busy season.

Classes in calisthenics, apparatus, floor work and a basket ball team will be organized and preparation for indoor athletic contests will be made.

The material this year for a basket ball team looks good, and a number of the old members will be in the ring again. Drilling of the sub-squads will begin Tuesday night. All basket ball players and presumptives are expected to be on the floor.

The Women's Class.

A meeting of the officers of the class was held at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening and the reorganization of the class discussed at length. Its reappearance this season is practically certain. As the chairman, Miss Clara Thurston, was absent from Thursday's meeting another will be held next week and reorganization completed. The work of the class this year, as last, is planned to close with a physical exhibit. The class plans to conduct the training, as formerly, in the Armory hall.

Volley Ball.

The interest in volley ball has grown to such an extent in Washington that the forming of a volley ball league this winter is a matter of general demand.

The league this year will be under the direction of chosen officers and a meeting of volley ball men has been suggested for next Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A., when plans will be perfected.

While the formal opening of the gym does not occur until October 1, preliminary work will start a week from next Wednesday and will continue each Wednesday and Friday night until the season opens.

The membership committee with each succeeding week, reports encouraging increases in the roll of members secured.

The Dormitory.

The Dormitory has been put in ship shape and with the attraction of convenient baths, rest rooms, library, well equipped rooms. A feature in connection with the dormitories, being considered for this year, is a dining club and the project has met with hearty enthusiasm among the dorm members.

NATURE DEALS BLOW TO JAPS

By Associated Press.

Tokio, August 28.—The commander of the first Japanese squadron has reported to the Navy Department that his torpedo flotilla ran into a typhoon. The boats were scattered and five men lost their lives as a result of the storm. The location of the fleet is not given.

HAVE THRILLING EXPERIENCES IN GERMAN EMPIRE

By Associated Press.

London, August 28.—John Watson Cox and Mrs. Cox, of New York, have arrived here and are the guests of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the American Secretary of State. Mrs. Cox said:

"We were motoring in Prussia

when war was declared and crossed immediately into Germany where we were held up continually by the civil authorities. On August 3 at Weissenstadt, the officials leveled their guns at our chauffeur to stop the car. My husband showed our American passports, but these were disregarded by the officials who said they might have been forged. They took my husband to the police station where they kept him more than two hours. They tried to get me to leave the automobile but I refused, as I was afraid we would lose the machine.

"A hooting crowd gathered about the car, urging me to get out. There were no railroad trains and I told the crowd that I must keep the car as it was our only means of getting to Berlin. Women in the gathering sneeringly told me I could stay there until the war was over. After many similar experiences in small towns we arrived at Bayreuth. The attitude toward Americans changed when the order was promulgated from Berlin to treat Americans kindly. At Frankfort and other places we were greeted with a display of American flags and given candy, fruit and flowers."

FOUR KILLED IN EXPLOSION

By Associated Press.

Enid, La., August 28.—Four persons were killed and three others probably fatally injured today near Savol, La., when gasoline in a tank car of the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railroad exploded. The explosion occurred several hours after the tank car had been derailed in a wreck.

ILLUSION IN WEIGHT.

Blunders That Simply Prove a Person's Good Judgment.

Take a sofa pillow in one hand, balance it carefully until you think you have a right sense of its weight. Hold a large glass in the other hand and have some one pour water into it until you think it weighs about as much as the pillow. Then weigh the two and see how far out of the way you are.

Or take a cap in one hand and put in the other as many coins as you think may be needed to balance it. You will find your judgment far from correct.

Take two stone jars. Fill one with hot water and the other with cold and ask a friend to say which is the heavier of the two. The bottle with hot water will seem 25 per cent heavier.

Take three articles weighing the same. Put one on the ground, one on a table and one on a high shelf. Ask a friend to lift them and determine which of the three is the heaviest. He will pick the one on the shelf as the one which weighs the most every time.

The laws of illusion in weight are quite exact, and it is marvelous to see what a large proportion of people will make exactly the same mistake in exactly the same way. Thus the pillow seems lighter than it is because its appearance suggests lightness. Of two similar weights the one that is the larger in size will always seem the lighter. That is why the weight of the cap will be underestimated in the experiment just described.

Any change from normal temperature, either hot or cold, will appear to increase the temperature. A piece of ice the same weight as a glass of water will seem to weigh twice as much.

The extra exertion needed to sustain the weight of an object either above or below our natural reach seems to make it heavier, and for this reason the weight on the shelf will seem to have the advantage.

Does this show what poor judges we are? Not at all. It only proves our good judgment. It is like the sad case of the college student in a class on optics who could see through the illusions, so that matters which appeared crooked to the rest of the class, although they were really straight, appeared straight to him. Instead of complimenting him on his discernment, the professor promptly expelled the student from the class on the ground that he was drunk. And he was!—New York American.

Old Time Bathing.

What would mixed bathers in England think of Blackpool as it was a little over a century ago? When ladies went to bathe a bell was rung to announce the fact, and any gentleman discovered on the parade after it had sounded was fined a bottle of wine. When the ladies had been bathed and completed their toilet the bell was rung a second time, and the gentlemen had their turn.—London Opinion.

New Zealand Nicknames.

New Zealand is described by its inhabitants as "the happiest country in the world." It is now a dominion. Some of the pretty names given to it by New Zealanders are "The Fortunate Isles," "The Wonderland of the Pacific," "All Lands in One" and "The Star of the South."

Diplomacy.

Lady—I'm afraid one foot is bigger than the other. Shopman—On the contrary, madam, one is perhaps smaller than the other.—London Opinion.

PRICE OF ORANGES TO BE REASONABLE

Oranges should be very cheap—at least reasonably—this winter. Apples and other fruits should also be lower in prices.

The war in Europe has in large measure cut off the demand for American fruit so the superabundance remaining at home ought to cheapen it very much.

There has been a growing demand in Europe for American fruits, especially oranges, apples and dried fruits, which have commanded good prices.

ment of commerce show that during the year which ended June 30, fruit valued at $32,000,000 was shipped from the United States to Europe.

The greater part of this was shipped to countries now engaged in the war so the war is sure to affect the exportation and make fruit cheaper at home.

Berlin Claims Defeat Of English, French And Belgians After a Nine Day Battle

Official Report Issued Declaring the Western Enemy Has Been Everywhere Defeated and is in Full Retreat.

GERMANS PURSUE FLEEING DIVISIONS OF THE ALLIES

French Admit German Forces Broke Through Their Lines, But Announce That They Have the Situation Well in Hand — Troops Massing Against Germans.

BRITISH MARINES LAND AND TAKE CONTROL OF OSTEND

Asquith Tells House English Losses in Prolonged Battle Have Been Very Heavy — Austria Declares War Against Belgium in Support of Kaiser.

By Associated Press.

London, August 28.—Bulletin.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says that a dispatch received there from Vienna states that Austria has declared war on Belgium. The American Minister in Belgium has been asked to take charge of Austrian interests there.

By Associated Press.

Berlin—via wireless to the Associated Press, via Sayville, L. I., Aug. 28.—Headquarters has issued an official report declaring that the western enemy has everywhere been defeated and is in full retreat after nine days fighting. General Von Kluck dominated the English army at Maubeuge, renewed the attack today and threatened to surround it.

Generals Von Buelow and Von Hasen completely dominated the Franco-Belgian forces, about eight army corps, between the Sambre and Namur, and the Meuse, in a several day battle and are now pursuing them to the eastward of Maubeuge. The attack on Maubeuge was opened by the Grand Duke Albrecht of Wuertemberg who defeated and pursued the army across the Semois and the Meuse.

The German Crown Prince is advancing toward the Meuse and the Crown Prince of Bavaria repulsed an attack from Nance and the South.

General Von Heeringen continued the pursuit southward through the Vosges. Four Belgian divisions attacking, Tuesday and Wednesday, from Antwerp, have been repulsed, losing guns and many prisoners. The Belgian population, generally, participated in the fighting, necessitating severe repressive measures. The corps of the last reserve have been called out to guard communications.

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 28.—A dispatch to the Times from Boulogne says it is asserted that German troops, presumably cavalry, broke through the French lines near Arras. The French moved up with rapidity, it is declared, and have the situation well in hand. The dispatch says the allied troops are being swiftly arranged to deal with any further attempts to break through the line between Dunkirk and Lille.

Arras is 100 miles northeast of Paris, the birthplace of Robespierre.

ENGLISH OCCUPYING OSTEND

London, August 28.—The British marines in force are now in control of Ostend, says a dispatch from that place to the Times. They continued landing all day yesterday and several quick-firing guns were brought ashore early today.

The men present a splendid appearance and all are eager for a speedy meeting with the enemy. The work of disembarkation is proceeding with smoothness and precision.

CONFLICT SPREADS TO CONGO

Paris, August 28.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Libreville, in the French Congo, says that the Belgian Congo has been attacked by German troops.

The Belgian administration, in accord with Great Britain, has taken defensive measures and has informed the French government of its action.

RUSSIAN SUCCESS AROUSES KAISER

London, August 28.—The Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "A dispatch from Berlin states that Emperor William has telegraphed his council of ministers charging the council with the immediate organization of all possible relief for the population of his beloved province of Prussia."

ENGLISH LOSSES HEAVY

London, Aug. 28.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons today that the British troops in Wednesday's fighting, were exposed to the attack of five German army corps. The losses on both sides, he said, were great.

CRAFT STRIKES MINE AND SINKS

London, Aug. 28.—Five members of the crew of a Scotch fishing craft, which has been sunk by a floating mine 30 miles off Blyth, Northumberland, were landed at Hull today.

TEN MINUTES BRING VICTORY

London, Aug. 28.—A Central News dispatch from Brindisi, Italy, says that a British destroyer sank an Austrian destroyer off Corfu, after a ten minutes fight.

GERMANS LOSE EAST PRUSSIA

London, Aug. 28.—The Russian Embassy has received telegrams confirming the Russian occupation of Tilsit, a town in East Prussia, saying the Russians made great captures and that the garrison and population fled. The Russians have established postal service in East Prussia and Russian stamps are used.

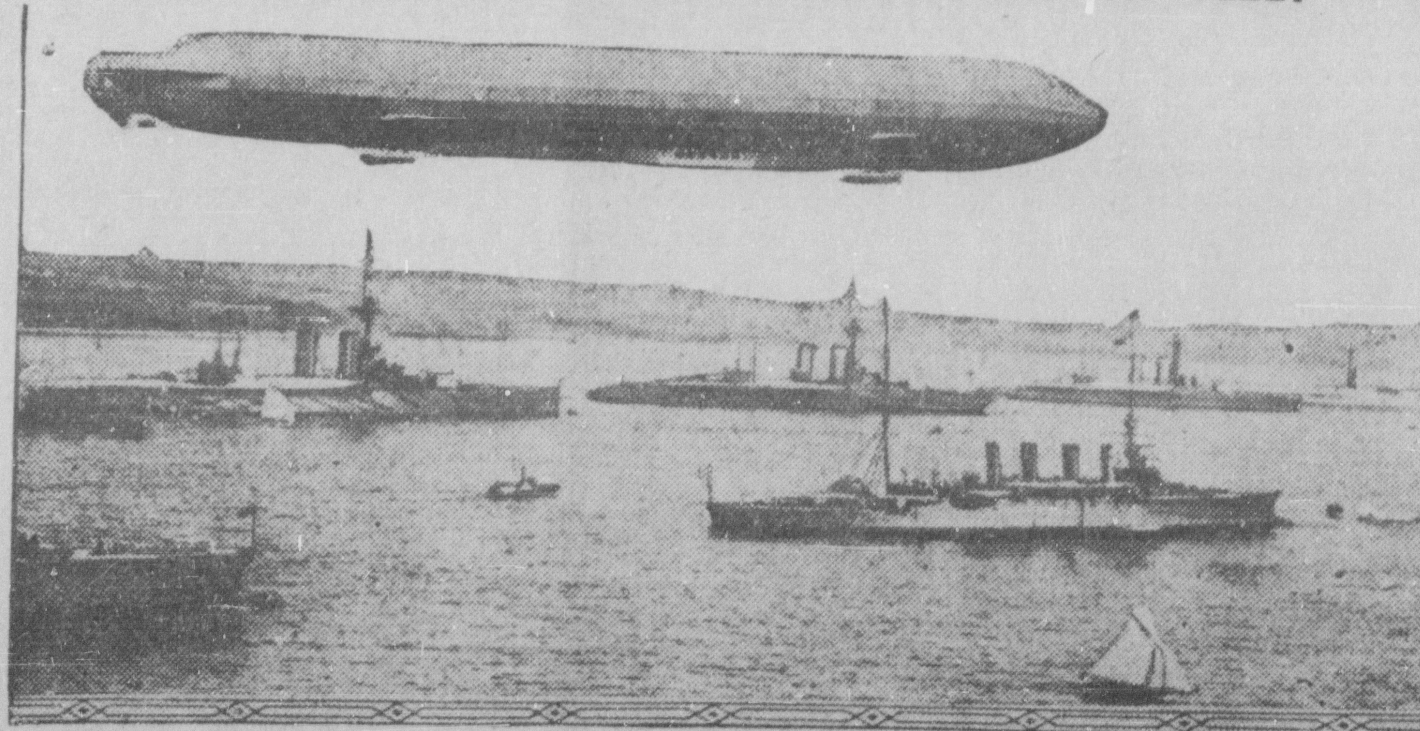

10 MILLION RUSSIANS ARMED ENGLAND MISSES WAR NEWS

By Associated Press.

London, August 28.—No news reached London today concerning the trend of events on any part of the battle line where fighting is in progress. Interest here is intense for it is felt that the engagements now going on must have a great influence on the fate of Paris. Silence also veils the progress of events in east Prussia. Ten million Russian soldiers have been enrolled under the standard of Emperor Nicholas, according to staff officers of the Russian army, who have arrived here from St. Petersburg. At sea, also, Russia seems to be waking up. The sinking of the German cruiser, Magdeburg reported yesterday, is hailed here as significant and as showing that the Russian navy is no longer bottled up in the Gulf of Finland as reported.

GERMAN DIRIGIBLE HOVERING OVER BRITISH FLEET

ASSOCIATED MAN TAKES THE FIELD

By Associated Press.

New York, August 28.—Frederick Palmer, the well known war correspondent, has been designated to represent the Associated Press with the British forces on the continent of Europe. Since he is the only American correspondent permitted by the British War Office to take the field his services will necessarily be shared by the Associated Press with all news associations in this country.

GERMANS REST UNDER CHARGE

By Associated Press.

Washington, August 28.—France has submitted to the United States and other neutral governments a sworn statement that after an engagement at Moncel, a German officer fired on three Red Cross nurses, killing two and wounding the third.

SOCIALISTS READY TO FIGHT WITH FRANCE

By Associated Press.

Paris, August 28.—The Socialist party issued a manifesto requesting M. Guesde to join the new cabinet of M. Viviani. "At a time when the future of the nation and the life of France is at stake," M. Guesde accepted membership in the cabinet without portfolio Wednesday night.

"At a time when the centers of industry and commercial life in France is threatened," the portfolio said, "national unity must be displayed in all its power. The head of the government thought that, in order to sustain the nation in the contest, he required the support of all, particularly of those who, on behalf of the emancipated proletariat, dread the crushing power of despotism." The manifesto adds that the Socialist ministers will see that the truth is told, will show that the republic is ready to fight to a finish and will make the production of arms and ammunition proceed more actively. "The Socialists feel," it adds, "that they are fighting not only for the greatness of France, but also for the liberty of the republic and civilization, so that the world may enjoy peace."

RUSSIA REPORTS SUCCESSES

Advance in East Prussia Continues, the Czar Expecting to Invest Berlin in Three Weeks—British Marines Land at Ostend, on the Belgian Coast—Austrian-Italian Relations Continue Strained—Forts at Namur Reduced.

London, Aug. 28.—Although the French forces have maintained their strong offensive movement between Nancy and the Vosges for five days, the onslaught of the heavy German army of invasion to the north has succeeded in breaking the allies' defense into French territory on both wings.

The fall of Longwy, an old French fortress on the Luxemburg frontier, was announced by the French war office, which added that half the garrison had been killed or wounded after a desperate resistance of twenty-four days.

Dispatches from Ostend say that the Germans have captured Lille, Valenciennes and Roubaix, French cities a few miles inside the frontier in the north. The British war office has maintained silence in the face of this report, for which no confirmation has yet been received.

Lille is an important manufacturing town and is strongly fortified. Twenty forts surround the city in a twenty mile circle. French reservists were supposed to be defending the place. Valenciennes is also an important French city, but is not fortified, though large barracks and an arsenal are located there. Roubaix is a town just northeast of Lille.

The first lord of admiralty, Winston Churchill, announced in the house of commons that British marines had been landed at Ostend, on the Belgian coast. The German forces had been reported close to the city, and the British military authorities feared it would be used as a base for Zeppelin raids on England if the enemy captured it. The strength of the marine detachment was not given out, but it is supposed to be considerable. It is believed here that the war office is sending another British expeditionary force to the continent. In support of this is the admiralty notice that Southampton has again been closed to shipping. This course was adopted when the first expeditionary army under General Sir John French was sent to France.

General Gallieni, the new governor of Paris, has taken steps to put the capital in condition to withstand a siege and assault and is to make of it a veritable entrenched camp.

Forts of Namur Reduced.

From Berlin a wireless message has been received announcing that all the forts at Namur have fallen and that Longwy, near the Luxemburg border, has been captured after a "resolute defense." The message also says that the French army which attacked the army of the crown prince has been repulsed, and that Haute Alsace, is virtually free of French troops.

From other sources come reports that six of the nine forts at Namur are still holding out, although the Germans have apparently occupied the city itself.

A dispatch from Ostend tells of the remarkable scenes in the city and says that the French troops arrived there too late to do any good. The Germans bombarded three forts for two days, putting two out of commission and damaging the third. It is reported that the Germans used eleven-inch siege guns in this work.

The Austro-Italian situation is important again. Italy has summoned her reservists to the colors and the Austrians are reported to be mobilizing troops on the Italian border. It is evident that the relations between the two countries are becoming more strained every hour. From St. Petersburg come announcements of the continued success of the Russian advance in East Prussia and the statements that the Russians expect to be investing Berlin in three weeks.

London, Aug. 28.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons that "the position of the British troops is satisfactory." The prime minister said Field Marshal Sir John French of the English forces reported he had been engaged in battle in Belgium against superior German forces. The British troops fought splendidly. It is reported, and General French considered the prospects in the impending battle satisfactory.

France abandoned the fortified city of Lille, of 220,000 inhabitants, and Roubaix and Valenciennes, just inside the Belgian frontier, to the advancing Germans without striking a blow, a dispatch to Ostend says.

French and British forces in great numbers are concentrated at Arras, chosen as the best strategic point at which to halt the 750,000 Germans advancing from Belgium. The war press bureau says the troops retired from before Lille in accordance with a prearranged scheme of campaign.

ENGLISH FEAR GERMAN BIRDS

London, Aug. 28.—A strong force of British marines has been landed at Ostend and there are indications that another expeditionary force is being sent to the continent, either to Ostend or to the coast farther south. The step was taken because Great Britain was fearful of raids from German airships if the Germans occupied a coast town across the channel. Ostend is only sixty-six miles from England, and the war office decided to establish a strong post there as a preventive measure. The British forces can now co-operate with the Belgian army and should prove a serious menace to the right flank of the German army which is swinging into France through Lille.

MILLIONS MARCH ON CAPITAL

London, Aug. 28.—Russia's advance in East Prussia on a prearranged scale which calls for the siege of Berlin in three weeks continues untarred, an official dispatch from Paris announces. The czar is invading Germany with 2,000,000 men, behind whom it is said are three lines of reserves, each of 2,000,000 men. It is officially stated in St. Petersburg that the attacking force will be kept constantly at the maximum of 2,000,000 as reinforcements are needed.

Paris reports an important Russian victory in the region of Mazuren, eastern Prussia. More than 100 cannon were taken from the Germans.

There exists now a new, compelling reason for buying Goodyear tires. It results from War conditions.

These leading tires—built of extra-fine rubber, in the same way as always—are selling today at June prices.

You will find today a very wide difference between most tire prices and Goodyears.

Due To Quick Action

Early in August—when war began—the world's rubber markets seemed closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost overnight.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others—in that panic—were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought—before the advance—1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra grade rubber obtainable abroad.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio

Today we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. So we are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it had been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best.

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade rubber.

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we pledged you the same grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep them there.

We accept no excessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

That means that Goodyears—the best tires built—are selling way below other tires.

PROHIB'S LIKE MOOSE MENU

Columbus, Aug. 28. — For the first time in forty-five years the Prohibitionists will not have a state ticket in Ohio this year. At a meeting of the members of the state central committee of that party it was decided to give the entire support of the party—estimated at about 20,000—to the Progressive candidates for state offices. The dry plank in the Progressive platform was indorsed.

J. H. Dickason of Wooster Prohibition nominee for governor, said he was willing to withdraw because of the flat footed declaration of the Ohio Progressives for prohibition.

Superintendent Wheeler said the Anti-Saloon league was a nonpartisan organization and would not come out directly for any one party, "unless the trustees of the league change its policy," but would favor all candidates regardless of party who stood for what the league desired.

Expansion.

A very stout fellow once presented himself to Sir Francis Burdett and asked him if he had a situation to give him.

"I do not know you," said Sir Francis, looking at him.

"Why, have you forgotten me?" said the fellow. "I was formerly a page in your house."

"My dear boy," said the baronet, "you have become a volume!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Minuteness of Molecules.

Molecules are so minute that there are about a sextillion of them in a cubic inch of air. These at freezing temperature oscillate back and forth at the rate of 1,470 feet a second. The average length of their path between oscillations is about one two-hundred and seventy-seven thousandth of an inch. Each comes into collision with its fellows about 5,000,000 times a second.

MAGIC LAUGHTER.

Vibration and Nitroglycerin Form a Perilous Combination.

An accident, said to be the most extraordinary on record, occurred at some oil fields in the Baku district of Russia, on the borders of the Caspian sea. One of the big "gusher" oil wells became choked, and, with a view of blowing it clear, a number of iron drums full of nitroglycerin were brought down by rail from Derbend and deposited overnight in a large shed which was used by the men as a sort of canteen.

The steward of this establishment, a Greek named Darios, opened one of the drums for some reason best known to himself and decanted a small quantity of the dangerous liquid into a long, thin glass used for mixing vodka. This he placed on a shelf behind the bar. Shortly afterward there entered a workman named Borkovitch, who was famous for the boisterous hilarity of his manner and especially for his loud, resonant laughter.

The sight of nitroglycerin in a vodka tumbler so excited his risibility that he gave vent to a series of stentorian guffaws. This set the half filled glass "ringing," and the treacherous contents immediately exploded.

The concussion sufficed, in its turn, to explode the rest of the stuff in the drums, entirely demolishing the shed and killing five persons, all who were in it at the time. The barman escaped through having gone down into the cellar just previously, whence he distinctly heard the laughter, followed by the musical "ringing" of the thin tumbler and the two explosions.—Pearson's Weekly.

United States Share in Peace

Standing out as a subject of absorbing interest to citizens of the United States and hardly of less importance to the nations of the world, is the attitude of the United States and its great power in connection with the issues of the European war.

H. G. Wells, the well known writer, makes the strong assertion that the ultimate issue of the European war rests with the United States.

By cable to the Chicago Tribune, Mr. Wells appeals directly to the United States urging that it throw the weight of its enormous power into the balance for the world's peace, and sends his appeal from Great Britain.

Mr. Wells, after referring to the many years in which Europe has been an armed camp, with millions of men continually under arms, with everything pinched but the equipment for war and social development retarded, comes to the immediate substance of his appeal when he says: "We are fighting to break this huge fighting machine forever; this machine which has been such an oppression as no native born American can dream of the every other nation in Europe."

Mr. Wells makes the assertion on behalf of the English that it is the government of the German Emperor which for the last forty years has taken the lead and forced the pace in these matters and that all Europe has been uneasy and in fear through declared contempt for treaties and pledges. He says in part: "Let us not attempt to deny the greatness of Germany and Germany's contributions to science, literature, art and all that is good in human life. But evil influence may over-shadow the finest people. Since the victories of 1871 Germany has been obsessed by worship of material power and glory and threateningly over bearing to all the world. "Recently there has not been a country in Europe that has not shown itself resentful under this perpetual menace of Germany."

Mr. Wells disclaims the purpose of asking from the United States military help, but urges it aid in other ways to establish a new Europe, "a Europe ridded of rankling oppressions with a free Poland, a free Finland, free Germany and the Balkan question settled, the little nations safe and with peace secure."

The writer begs that the United States refuse to engage in such enterprises as are not for the ultimate peace of the world and protests against its snatching advantages "to play the part of a merely numerous little people, cute at trading to give your people immediate profits."

In closing the appeal says, "Are you prepared to take the lead among nations to which your greatness and freedom point you? It is not for ourselves we make this appeal. It is for the whole future of mankind. And we make it with more assurance because already your government has stood for peace and observance of treaties against base advantages."

The appeal in its presentation of Great Britain's position and sentiment in regard to the United States, offers material for large reflection and argument.

United States May Become World Banker

By Sir GEORGE PAISH, Noted English Economist

German Aeroplanes May Decide European War

By Representative RAINEY of Illinois

THE mischief and injury a great European war will cause will be greatly minimized if American bankers and investors are as courageous as English bankers and investors have been in the past.

IN BRIEF, A GREAT WAR IN EUROPE WILL GIVE THE UNITED STATES AN OPPORTUNITY OF ASSUMING THE POSITION OF WORLD BANKER BY SUPPLYING CAPITAL FREELY TO COUNTRIES AND INDIVIDUALS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD WHO NEED IT AND CAN PROVIDE THE REQUIRED SECURITY. SHOULD THE AMERICAN PEOPLE TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY THUS AFFORDED, THEN THE OUTBREAK OF WAR IN EUROPE WILL MEAN NOT DESTRUCTION BUT INCREASED PROSPERITY FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

GERMAN aeroplanes may be the decisive force in a general European war. British Dreadnoughts might amount to nothing and might have to be retired as land defenses if the kaiser's aeroplane force conducts a twentieth century war.

SEVERAL ENGLISH MILITARY AND NAVAL AUTHORITIES HAVE CONTENTED ENGLAND'S GREAT DREADNOUGHTS WOULD BE A HANDICAP IN MODERN WARFARE. USE OF BOMBS WOULD HAVE A DISASTROUS EFFECT ON ANY NAVY, BUT MINES WOULD BE WORTHLESS. WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY MIGHT MAKE THIS WAR THE QUICKEST OF ANY IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD BECAUSE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH RAPID COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE POWERS WHICH ARE SIDDING TOGETHER.

Poetry For Today

THE AUTUMN GLORY.

Oh, the olden, golden glory
With the autumn poms unfurled,
Mantling every hilltop hoary,
Flaming up and down the world!

Scarlet bough and crimson creeper,
Burning branch and kindling spire,
Dawn on dawning groving deeper
With the transitory fire!

Morn on morn a radiant shaping
Of a pageantry sublime;
Eve on eve a rapt redraping
Of the tapestries of time!

Not for one this sweeping wonder,
Bloom of beauty—not for one,
But for all men dwelling under
The dominion of the sun.

For from some celestial portal,
Whence all earthly splendors be,
Comes a voice to every mortal:
"Lo, lift up thine eyes, and see!"

ARMY POST HAZING

A Very Raw Recruit Who Got a Very Warm Reception.

HIS CLASH WITH "OLD BULL."

After the Quite Informal Introduction to the Colonel Was Effected the Tables Turned and "Corporal Suds" Got a Dose of His Own Medicine.

General E. V. Sumner, who was long colonel in command of the "Fighting Seventh" cavalry, was known to the rank and file of his regiment as "Old Bull." His gruff manners may have had something to do with the nickname, but it came to him fairly by inheritance. His father, General Sumner, bore it before him.

When the Seventh was stationed at Fort Grant, Arizona, a very raw recruit was sent on from Kansas City. As usual, the men persecuted him from the start. He returned meekly from the ordnance stores with the information that "left handed ramrods" were all gone; without batting an eyelash he reported that the sergeant in charge of the post exchange swore at him when he applied for his "butter checks." They took his last two bits away from him in the canteen in some hocus pocus game. After supper he was "blanket tossed" until the arms of the tossers grew weary, and three times that night his bunk collapsed amid roars of merriment. The recruit then gave up the struggle and lay shivering upon the floor until morning.

He neither murmured nor complained. In fact, he seemed to be so unsophisticated that when he asked his room corporal where he could have some washing done the corporal, with a jerk of his thumb, indicated the commanding officer's house on the corner of the parade. "Go over to that big house," the corporal directed. "Take your bundle with you and ask for Old Bull. He takes in all the washin' at this post."

Grasping his little bundle, the green lad from Kansas City shuffled across the parade, mounted the colonel's front stoop and innocently pulled the doorbell. The joke was an old one, as Old Bull had never been known to answer the bell in person, and more than one recruit had learned the way to "Soap-suds row" after a tongue lashing from the commandant's dusky maid of all work. And as she had threatened to scold the next man who bothered her about his washing the tip was passed along from troop to troop, and the men swarmed out on the verandas to see the fun.

But just as the recruit pulled the bell who should step out but Old Bull himself, booted and spurred for his morning ride.

"What do you want here?" he thundered, surprised to see an enlisted man at his front door.

"I—I—I wanted to see about gettin' these sh-shirts and socks done up, m-mister," stammered the frightened recruit. "They told me to come over here and ask for Old Bull," he added.

"Well, I'm Old Bull!" roared the colonel. "You come along with me and point out the man that sent you over here." He went on as he grasped the astonished youth and hurried him toward the troop quarters.

The crowds upon the verandas melted away as Colonel Sumner approached, but the guilty corporal was found lurking in the troop barber shop. Some heated language ensued, and then at the end of the painful interview Old Bull delivered himself thus:

"Corporal, I ought to have you court-martialed. I could have your stripes taken away and see that you got about thirty days into the bargain or I could have you fined. But you've been one of my best noncoms. You're always sober and a good shot, and so I'm not going to take your chevrons, your liberty or your money away from you. But since you're such an expert on laundry matters I order you to do this man's washing on the front porch of these quarters every Monday morning at guard mount."

"And you, he bellowed, turning to the recruit and shaking his gauntlets at him, "you see that you have at least two suits of underclothes and seven pairs of socks for him every week. And if he don't wash 'em clean you report to Old Bull, that's me!"

And thereafter for several months, until a band of Tonto basin Apaches went on a rampage and gave them more serious things to think about, the men of the Seventh looked forward happily to Monday morning guard mount. The noncommissioned laundryman became known as "Corporal Suds" and was teased about the affair until the day a piece of Spanish shrapnel cut short his existence.—Youth's Companion.

HISTORY AND A PICTURE.

Cornwallis and His Sword After the Fall of Yorktown.

Art is not always true to history. Schoolboys of several generations are familiar with the picture of Cornwallis surrendering his sword to Washington after the fall of Yorktown. Lord Cornwallis is revealed in the act of passing over his beautiful sword to the hand of his conqueror. The inference is that Washington took the sword and kept it as a trophy of victory. The facts are quite otherwise.

Cornwallis, proud even in defeat, declined to put in a personal appearance on the occasion of his surrender. The allied forces, American and French, who had besieged him for thirteen days, were drawn up in two columns along the road leading to Hampton. Rochambeau, on a fine bay horse, was at the head of the French column. On his white charger sat Washington at the head of the American troops. The surrendered British and Hessians marched out of their intrenchments and passed down between the two columns.

Many thousands of Virginia citizens were gathered to watch the scene, all eager to get a glimpse of Lord Cornwallis. But they were disappointed in that. Cornwallis pleaded indisposition and stayed in his quarters. He sent his sword by one of his officers, General O'Hara, to be delivered up to Washington. General O'Hara offered the sword to Washington, who directed him to General Lincoln, the officer whom Washington had appointed to conduct the surrender. Lincoln took the sword from O'Hara's hand and then politely handed it back, to be returned to Cornwallis.

TREES FULL OF FAT.

Some of Them Yield a Pretty Fair Substitute For Butter.

There are several trees that yield an oily substance much resembling butter and making a good substitute for it. Some of these grow in Europe, but the best known species are natives of Africa and South America.

The Bussia butyracea, or the "shea butter," as it is commonly called, grows wild on the west coast of Africa. The butter obtained from this tree is derived by pounding and pressing the seeds, which are three inches long. When extracted the oil assumes the consistency of butter and smells like chocolate. Not only is it an excellent article of food, but it is used extensively for the making of soap and candles.

The seeds of the crab tree of Brazil and Guiana are 70 per cent fat, and the "crab wood tallow" derived from them is excellent for the manufacture of candles and soap. When boiled the tallow turns out yellow butter which contains a small quantity of strychnine. The latter, however, is easily removed by prolonged boiling.

From the nutmeg a useful fat is obtained. The nutmegs which have been broken or damaged by insects are roasted, ground and pressed for the fat, which is used for cosmetic and medicinal purposes.

A tree abounding in the forests of Africa and called by the Kaffirs "chignite" yields (from the fruit or bark, the exact source being unknown) a white butter-like substance which constitutes an important article of commerce on that continent.—New York World.

A Fleeting Observation.

He was a college professor, greatly beloved because of his kind heart, but with the common scholastic failing of being very absentminded. He visited his married niece and listened to her praise of her first born. When she paused for breath the professor felt that he must say something.

"Can the little fellow walk?" he asked, with every appearance of interest. "Walk!" cried the mother indignantly. "Why, he's been walking now for five months."

"Dear me!" exclaimed the professor, again lapsing into abstraction. "What a long way he must have gone!"—New York Globe.

Labouchere's Complaint.

If people banished from their tables all the commodities which, like salt, have been condemned in print their diet would be decidedly monotonous. "Food faddists are most aggressive persons," Henry Labouchere once complained. "In my time I have known them to preach that we should give up meat, tobacco, soup, starch (including bread and potatoes), salt, tomatoes, bananas, strawberries and bath buns. I have also witnessed movements for giving up boots, waistcoats, hats, overcoats, carpets, feather beds, spring mattresses, cold baths, linen clothes, woolen clothes, sleeping more than six hours, sleeping less than nine hours and lighting fires at the bottom."

The real man is one who always finds excuses for others, but never excuses himself.—Henry Ward Beecher.

ONE MAN PLEADS GUILTY AND DRAWS FINE OF $200

George Scott Is Bootlegger Who Takes First Fine and Tobias Peoples Announces Willingness to Plead Guilty—One Man Closes Place of Business and Flees—Other Affidavits in Hands of the Authorities.

Already one man has entered a plea of guilty and a second has signified his intention to do so as a result of the recent arrests on charges of violating the local option law by selling intoxicants.

George Scott is the man who is first to plead guilty, and upon his plea of guilty Mayor Coffey promptly imposed a fine of $200 and the costs, and will suspend a portion of the fine.

It is claimed that not only has Scott entered a plea of guilty to the charge of selling whiskey to L. R. Rowe, but has filed affidavits against men whom he is alleged to have aided in bootlegging. The affidavits are expected to come to light later.

Scott was remanded back to the county jail to remain temporarily until final disposition can be made of his case.

Tobias Peoples has signified his willingness to plead guilty to the charge against him, but up to two o'clock Friday afternoon had not been taken before Mayor Coffey to be fined.

Peoples was released soon after arrest so that he might obtain bond for his release, but Thursday afternoon the police received a tip that Peoples was packing up his belongings with a view to giving the police the slip.

The net was spread and a short time later Chief Moore placed the man under arrest and he was escorted to the county jail to await his appearance to answer to the charge against him.

The efforts to make a get-away indicated that the man was not at all anxious to face the charge against him, and Chief Moore was not surprised when the man later expressed a willingness to plead guilty, providing he could pay his fine in installments agreeable to himself but not to Mayor Coffey.

Peoples is one of those against whom other charges may be filed before he is released from the toils of the law.

"We have landed some really 'big game' in bootlegging circles", said Mayor Coffey Friday while discussing the recent arrests. "We have the goods on them, and they will be dealt with accordingly," he continued. He also stated that no light fines would follow convictions.

One of the numerous affidavits still in hands of the police is for a colored man whose place of business has been closed up, and the man succeeded in leaving the city before arrest was made. Sleuths of other cities will be asked to locate the man so that he may be returned to this city to face the charges.

SLIGHT HOPE FOR RECOVERY

Two Men Who Were Injured in Automobile Accident When Three Companions Were Killed at Leesburg, Still in Serious Condition.

Reports from Leesburg are to the effect that Charles E. Hixson and James Adams, the two men who were dangerously injured when their three companions, George Haas, Chas. Dewey and R. E. Bonney were almost instantly killed when a B. & O. fast train struck their automobile, are still in a very serious condition, with little hope of their recovery.

Mr. Adams was removed from the Betts hospital, Cincinnati, to his home a few days ago, but he is still at death's door. During his conscious moments he had pleaded to be taken home, and his pleadings became so constant that he was eventually removed.

From the hospital come reports that Mr. Hixson has no chance of recovery, and that his death is a question of but a few days. He has lain in a stupor for some time, and no one but the physicians and nurses are permitted to see him. It is believed that pneumonia has set in.

Both men have been growing worse since the latter part of last week, and present indications are that the accident will yet result in the death of all five men.

DEATH CALLS AT ADVANCED AGE

After a life well rounded toward the century milestone, Mrs. Angeline Jacobs, wife of B. F. Jacobs, died Thursday evening at 6:45, at her home near Parrett's Station.

Mrs. Jacobs was past 86 years of age and one of the oldest residents of the county; born in Dover, Del., and coming to Fayette county, when only ten years old. Her husband is the only Mexican soldier living in this county. She leaves besides her husband two children, Frank Jacobs, of Parretts, and Mrs. Leno McKenzie, of Lynchburg. She was a sister of the late George Bryan.

The funeral will be held Sunday

at 10 a. m. at the residence. Burial in Creamer cemetery.

STREET STREAMERS CAUSING COMMENT

Huge streamers suspended over one of the city's principal streets and advertising an out-of-town event which means little or nothing of benefit to the city, as one of the present day sights in Washington, and is the cause of a great deal of comment.

"Could Washington obtain the streets of other cities to boost something that detracts from the other cities?" is the question which has arisen in the minds of local citizens.

BIG BATTLE AMONG HILLS PLANNED FOR THIS EVENING

Men of Fourth in Good Condition and Eager For Fray Which is Expected to Last Far Into the Night—One Man Reported to Have Lost Portion of Ear During One of the Spirited Attacks.

The rain of Friday morning was not so disagreeable to members of the Fourth regiment, owing to the fact that the large shelter tents were ready for use, and it was not necessary for the boys to seek shelter under the "pup" tents as earlier in the week.

The men did not get into the shelter tents until Thursday, as a result of having no stakes for the large tents—according to report from the field of action.

The presence of the Fourth at Maple Grove—the camp being pitched immediately in front of the hotel—has drawn a great many guests to the hotels, and many visitors from this city are included among the guests.

So far all members of Company M are in good health, and the camp is moving forward very successfully. The only accidents to date was when Golfer's Great Catch.

A good story is told of the late William Mollison, the actor. Playing on a Tayside links, he was driving off at the seventh hole (which stands on a high embankment with a burn in front), and after the usual waggie, he let go. But the head of his driver was loose. It came off and went into the burn and left him with nothing but the shaft, with the whipping straightened out—one end attached to the shaft and the other to the head of the club. There he stood a la anglie, then he was heard to shout to his caddie: "Get the landing net ready, you fool! I've got a ten pounder here!"—World of Golf.

DEMAND FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Visitors at Highland Caves Invariably Surprised at Little Accommodation Offered by Company Which Charges Fee to Sightseers But Does Little to Protect Them From Dangers and Inconveniences.

Washington citizens who have made trips to the famous Highland county caves near Bainbridge, are unanimous in the view which is also concurred in by practically all who visit the caves, that the company in charge of the caves should take greater precaution to prevent accidents at the caves.

At the present time, while the caves have been commercialized by a stock company, and a fee is charged to all who desire to visit the place, very little precaution has been taken to prevent serious accidents, and a single false step in some of the dangerous places would result in the death or serious injury of the sightseer, who has paid his or her fee to get a view of the caves.

So little precaution has been taken, and so few accommodations are offered that it might easily be said that none exist, and the question of why such conditions exist is invariably asked by the persons visiting the place.

Considering the large number of persons who each year visit the caves, it is little short of miraculous that there are not more serious accidents than what are recorded about the cliffs, dangerous underground passages-ways, and rocky roadways and pathways.

Within the next few years it is expected that the demand will be such that those in charge must furnish more and better accommodations, and light the caves by electricity so that the dangers of the place may be brought down to the minimum. When this is done, a much larger number of persons will annually view the scenery and pay their fee into the coffers of the company in charge.

WITH THE MANAGERS.

"Believe Me" has been under the eyes of envious managers ever since its first presentation to the public. Varied and many have the compliments been of the men who are ever on the alert for productions that will get them the houses. Managers who have seen this show realized instantly the merit of it as a money-getter and since the opening, the offers have been made numerous times for its purchase outright from the present owner. Aside from the desire to purchase, local Managers have been trying to get this attraction for their houses, and those who have been successful in procuring it can be congratulated upon securing something entirely worth while. After a consideration of this fact, attesting the delight with which those interested in the theatrical business have hailed the piece, and showing the big possibilities they can see in it, take a chance, and when the show visits your city on Tuesday, September 1, give it the greeting which it deserves and there is no question but that you will be of the opinion that it is a production of unusual merit, presented by the best balanced company ever in the town, and well worthy of the favorable and unanimous praise which has been bestowed all along the line.

FRENCH SURE OF VICTORY

Government Expresses Confidence in Its Troops.

WAR OFFICE AIRS THE SITUATION

Progress Made by France in the Region Between the Vosges and Nancy and Eastern Prussia in the Hands of the Russians—Constitution of New Ministry Gives General Satisfaction.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The ministry of war issued the following communiqué:

"Events in the northern region have not to any degree compromised nor modified the measures taken in view of the ulterior developments of the operations. In the region between the Vosges and Nancy our troops continue their progress. In eastern Prussia the Germans have evacuated the Mazurenland region after a Russian victory. The Russians have not experienced any arrest in this very difficult territory. It is confirmed that the Russians captured 100 cannon. In Galicia the Russian offensive pursues its course normally in the region south and southwest of Tarnopol. It is confirmed that Prince Ernest of Saxe-Meiningen has been seriously wounded and has been put in the hospital at Manteuffel."

M. Millerand, the new minister of war, wrote General Joffre, expressing the government's confidence and admiration for the troops. "France is sure of victory because she is resolute to obtain it," he said.

The constitution of the new ministry gives general satisfaction here, as it combines the best men of all parties and makes what is regarded as a very necessary change in the ministry of war. Alexandre Millerand, the new minister of war, has already acted in this capacity in former cabinets. M. Delcasse, as the head of the foreign office, was at the head of this department at the time of the Moroccan affair, and he is greeted in this post all the more warmly now because he was the chief architect of the entente cordiale between France and Great Britain, which is a different understanding from the triple entente between these two countries and Russia.

M. Aristide Briand, the new minister of justice, is doubly welcomed in the new cabinet as the author of the three years' conscription bill when he was prime minister. The inclusion of two Socialists, Marcel Seabat and Jules Guesde, is regarded as a particularly happy combination.

MILLIONS FOR OVER SEA TRADE

Bill Appropriates $30,000,000 For Purchase of Vessels.

Washington, Aug. 28.—A bill authorizing an appropriation of $30,000,000 to enable the president to construct or purchase thirty naval auxiliaries that may be converted into merchantment for use in the over-sea trade during the war in Europe or like emergencies, has been completed and will soon be reported by the house committee on naval affairs. The bill provides that these vessels shall be turned over to the Panama Steamship and Railway company, a government owned concern, and that the company shall operate them in the coastwise trade of the United States or between American ports or ports of Central and South America and in the over-sea trade at the discretion of the president.

The bill prepared by the naval committee was drawn in accordance with directions given by the president. It is designed as a substitute for the bill recently passed by the senate authorizing the use of naval vessels for commerce between the United States and ports of Central and South America.

HOW BOMBS ARE DROPPED FROM DIRIGIBLES.

London, Aug. 28.—The method used by Zeppelin airships in dropping bombs has been described as follows by an English refugee who just arrived here from Belgium: The dirigible hovers over its objective at a sufficient altitude to keep it out of range of the enemy's guns. At the same time it lowers a steel cage attached to a wire rope 2,000 or 3,000 feet long. This cage is divided into compartments, and it carries one man, whose duty it is to throw down the bombs. The cage is sufficiently strong to make rifle fire against it ineffective, and because of its small size and the fact that it is kept constantly in motion, it is very difficult for heavy guns to hit it.

Size of the Sea.

An officer of a liner once remarked that most men seemed to be as ignorant about the size of the sea as they are of the distance between the heavenly planets. Here are a few facts: The Pacific covers 68,000,000 miles, the Atlantic 30,000,000 and the Indian ocean, Arctic and Antarctic 42,000,000. To stow away the contents of the Pacific it would be necessary to fill a tank one mile long, one mile wide and one mile deep every day for 440 years. Put in figures the Pacific holds in weight 948,000,000,000,000,000 tons. The Atlantic averages a depth of not quite three miles. Its waters weigh 325,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and a tank to contain it would have each of its sides forty-three miles long. The figures of the other oceans are in the same startling proportions. It would take all the sea water in the world 2,000,000 years to flow over Niagara.

The Hunter and the Wind.

In hunting against the wind in open forests more game is passed than many hunters would suppose. The animals see the man, note that he will pass them and hide by getting as near to the ground as possible. If they scent him after he has passed they evidently realize that the danger is over, though some, mostly the younger, inexperienced animals, then sneak off. Where game is very wild it is often in such localities as I have mentioned only possible to approach them with the wind by outdistancing the latter, because a big game animal at rest depends on its nose to save it from danger in the direction from which the wind comes and on its eyes to watch the side from which it can get no other warning.—"Track and Tracking," by Josef Brunner.

Worth of Icelandic Ponies.

Icelandic ponies aroused the admiration of the great traveler, Mme. Ida Pfeiffer. "In spite of scanty food," she wrote, "they have marvelous powers of endurance. They can travel from thirty-five to forty miles per diem for several consecutive days. They know by instinct the dangerous spots in the stormy wastes and in the moors and swamps. On approaching these places they bend their heads toward the earth and look sharply around on all sides. If they cannot discover a firm resting place for their feet they stop at once and cannot be urged forward without many blows."

Enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is faith in action. "Faith believeth all things," Enthusiasm puts that belief to the test. The enthusiast believes that the thing can be done; he has faith to believe that it ought to be done; he has enthusiasm to do it. To the unthinking enthusiasm is but the foam on the deeply stirred waters. In truth it is the striving of the waters themselves. It is the very life of effort. —From "The Power of Mental Demand," by Herbert Edward Law.

PARIS FIXES FOR A SIEGE

Paris, Aug. 28.—Paris is rapidly being turned into a vast entrenched camp to resist any possible siege by the Germans. Alexandre Millerand, the new minister of war, conferred with the military chiefs in Paris and directed steps to meet all eventualities. General Gallieni, the new commander in chief of the army in Paris, is directing the measures to protect the city.

These steps were officially stated to be "only necessary precautions in conjunction with the military operations," but this announcement was not sufficient to calm the fears that had been aroused by the sudden formation of a new cabinet. It is expected that within twenty-four hours passenger train service will be practically suspended by a flood of freight traffic bringing to the capital supplies to stock the government store houses. The freight trains are already being made up at towns in the centers of the agricultural districts.

FLOWERS AND FLAGS

DECORATE THE RACE TRACK AT THE STATE FAIR

Past flowers and flags the winners will race at Ohio State Fair. Visitors will this year see top notch racing over the finest race course in the world. There is none other like it.

Special effort has been made to make this the most unique and picturesque racing course in the world. The infield is decorated with large mounds fringed with flowers and flags.

"The Rainbow Comes Down in Ohio" is the legend on largest mound. A Horse Shoe, and a Four Leaf Clover are the flower signs on the other two.

A fringe of flowers and shrubs ornament the outer edge of the infield next to the track.

The Flag of Ohio and "Old Glory" will be in evidence.

Japan Denies She Will Send Fleet to Europe.

AMBASSADOR CHINDA TALKS

No Interest or Inducement Whatever For the Japanese to Embroil Themselves in the European War in Europe Itself—Wilson Issues Neutrality Proclamation Recognizing War Between Austria and Japan.

Washington, Aug. 28.—President Wilson issued a proclamation of neutrality, recognizing that "a state of war unhappily exists between Japan and Austria-Hungary." It is similar to other proclamations previously issued.

The issuance of the president's proclamation followed an unusual sequence of events, during which, so far as officials here are aware, neither country actually declared war.

A "state of war" was recognized as existing, however, because Ambassador Dumba of Austria notified the state department that the emperor of Austria-Hungary had instructed the cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth to join the German fleet in defense of Tsingtau. Last Monday orders were transmitted from Vienna through Washington to the officers of the Austrian vessel to dismantle her. Press dispatches from Tsingtau said the orders had been carried out and the crew had left.

The American government, however, took cognizance only of Austria's notification of her intention to join the Germans in defense of Tsingtau, and the proclamation of neutrality followed.

The Japanese embassy here issued a statement denying reports that Japan would send a fleet to the Adriatic. Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, said:

"Nothing is more absurd than the purport of a London telegram, appearing in some of the papers, intimating that Japan's answer to the Austrian declaration of war will be the dispatch of a squadron to the Adriatic. The terms of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, solely under which Japan is acting, contain nothing which will obligate Japan to go that far; nor is there any interest or inducement whatever for Japan to embroil herself in this European war in Europe itself."

SHIP BEACHES IN DENSE FOG

Berlin, Aug. 28.—The German admiralty has issued the following:

"The light cruiser Magdeburg went ashore in a fog on the island of Odensholm, at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland. Her companion ships were unable to assist her and the efforts that were made to get the Magdeburg afloat failed. The captain of the Magdeburg decided to blow her up as a superior Russian naval force was preparing to attack her. A majority of the crew was saved by a torpedo boat under a heavy Russian fire. Seventeen were killed, twenty-one wounded and eighty-five are missing, including the captain. The survivors reached a German harbor."

The Man or the Gun?

The man rather than the gun is a nation's military asset, asserts H. G. Wells, whose essay on "The Common Sense of Warfare" is included in his book, "Social Forces in England and America." "Every penny," he says, "we divert from national wealth making to national weapons means so much less in resources, so much more strain in the years ahead. But a great system of laboratories and experimental stations, a systematic industrious increase of men of the officer-aviator type, of the research student type, of the engineer type, of the naval officer type, of the skilled sergeant instructor type, a methodical development of a common sentiment and a common zeal among such a body of men, is an added strength that grows greater from the moment you call it into being."

Enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is faith in action. "Faith believeth all things," Enthusiasm puts that belief to the test. The enthusiast believes that the thing can be done; he has faith to believe that it ought to be done; he has enthusiasm to do it. To the unthinking enthusiasm is but the foam on the deeply stirred waters. In truth it is the striving of the waters themselves. It is the very life of effort. —From "The Power of Mental Demand," by Herbert Edward Law.

Over Fifteen Thousand Factories in Ohio

Do you know what they are all making? Did you know that Ohio leads the country in the manufacture of carriages and wagons, of pottery and clay products, and a few other things? That it is second in automobiles?

What do you know about your state, in the lines of practical knowledge that every resident ought to know? It is impossible to remember much of the data that you read, of course, and you need your memory for things of immediate use in the task of earning your daily bread. Knowing where to find information and other matters, and having the means at your hand, is the important thing. That is what our OHIO ALMANAC has done for you. Men who know thoroughly the various departments of the history Ohio is making every day, have gathered the important facts together for you and put them into a book that is as concise as it is complete. The splendid index removes all possibility of tedium and delay in finding these facts.

And we offer this Handbook to you for 25c at our office, or by mail at 30c, postpaid.

"COZY" DOLAN OF THE CARDINALS IS MAKING RECORD ON THE BASES

St. Louis, August 28.—"Cozy" Dolan, outfielder for the Cardinals, is a man after Manager Huggins' own heart. He is always doing something once he gets on the bases. He lets the pitcher know early in the game that he does not intend to stand on the sack until a safe swat sends him on. He wants to rely on himself, so he usually sets sail for the next station. That station may be the home plate, for Dolan makes three base hits at times. But this does not scare Cozy. If the pitcher is careless or spends too much time winding up the fleet Cardinal is likely to steal home or to try to steal home. Huggins likes that style of play. It does not always prove successful, but Huggins says it helps to rattle the opposing pitcher, and rattled pitchers lose games.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

New Postmaster at Columbus. Columbus, Aug. 28.—Samuel A. Kinnear, director of public service, will be recommended to the president for appointment as Columbus postmaster. This announcement was made by Congressman Brumbaugh, who has been here from Washington for several days for the purpose of determining upon the announcement. The recommendation will be made at once, it is understood, after which President Wilson is expected to send Mr. Kinnear's name to the senate for confirmation.

Epidemic of Colitis. Lancaster, O., Aug. 28.—Thirteen deaths from colitis have occurred here during the last two weeks. Nearly a score of people are suffering from the same malady and many of the cases are reported to be very critical. The use of city well water is attributed as one of the main causes of the epidemic.

Auto Driver Killed. Cleveland, O., Aug. 28.—George Coleman, thirty, salesman, is dead, and four other men who were riding with him in an automobile are suffering from injuries, as a result of the machine crashing into a farmer's wagon, east of Cleveland. The injured will recover.

England's Oldest Theater. The village theater at Little Easton may be the oldest theater in use in England, but it is not the oldest in existence. Visitors in Dorchester can find there a wonderfully preserved Roman theater, designed, it has been estimated, to seat about 13,000 people and artfully arranged to have the sun behind the majority of them for the greater part of the day. And this theater has been used in comparatively modern times, for in 1705 10,000 people (alleged to be civilized) gathered there to witness the burning of a woman who had poisoned her husband. —London Spectator.

To Lambaste. "Lambaste" is a shrewy, heroic word. We prefer it to its variant "lambast." And it is a word of respectable age. "Stand off awhile and see how I'll lambaste him" was written in 1637. It comes from the word "lam," to beat soundly, and "baste," which means the same thing. The tautology is here only intensive. But the word should always be spelled with a final "e." —London Standard.

STEEL MAGNATE AT DEATH'S DOOR

Boston, Aug. 28.—Henry C. Frick, the Pittsburgh steel king, is dying at his summer home in Beverly. A trifle more than a week ago Mr. Frick was stricken with a slight shock. His condition grew steadily worse.

The Bottle Tree. The Sterculias is a genus largely represented in Queensland and widely distributed. To it belongs the bottle tree of the west of Queensland. Blacks eat the seeds of one of the species of the coast, and in the Philippines those of apparently a closely allied species are considered wholesome when roasted or boiled, though eaten in large quantities. The tree belongs to a good family, being related to the Theobroma (food of the gods), which supplies the world with cocoa and chocolate. When the fruit splits open it is a brilliant scarlet with an orange tinted interior. Along the parted edges are the seeds, oval and black, covered with a rich purple bloom. The fruit, being tough and leathery, remains on the tree a long time, forming a most effective display in the gloom of the jungle. —T. P.'s London Weekly.

A Fish Story. "The Inns of dear old England are picturesque," said Richard LeGallienne, "but the food they serve is something terrible."

"After a visit to Blenheim palace I entered an inn in the quaint village of Woodstock. As I lunched—or tried to lunch—my landlord said to me: 'The great dook of Marlborough once set in that chair you're a settin' in, sir.'"

"Is that so?" said I. "And the dook once drunk 'Is beer out o' that same mug you're a drinkin' out o'."

"And I bet," said I, "I bet he refused to eat this fish too. Well, take it away, my man. I don't want it either." —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Mighty Capella. The star Capella is a hundred times brighter and hotter than our sun. If the earth were as near to Capella as it is to the sun the thermometer of an instrument could be made capable of bearing such a temperature would rise in July not merely to a hundred, but to 10,000 degrees F. The oceans would fly off in puffs of steam. The forests and fields would kindle and burn like matchwood. The mountains and hills would melt like beeswax in a red-hot oven! The earth in the rays of Capella would be as a moth in a candle flame. —New York Journal.

Insulted. Here is an amusing instance of his trionic conceit. An interviewer, having obtained access to the presence of a famous actor, asked the great man if he would be kind enough to describe some of his early failures.

"Sir," snapped the tragedian, "I never had any! James—the door!"

All Labor is Worthy. There must be work done by the arms or none of us would live, and work done by the brains or the life would not be worth having. —Ruskin.

Where it Pinched. "Don't it aggravate you that I ask you for twenty-five cents?" "No, that does not aggravate me; it is the giving of it to you." —Paris Pages Folles.

Y. M. C. A. PREPARING FOR WINTER SEASON

Approaching Fall and Winter Will be One of Unusual Activity in Y. M. C. A. Circles.

MANY NEW PROJECTS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Educational Features Will be Added—Membership Increasing—Dormitories Are Filling—Physical Department Buzzing—Woman's Class to Reorganize—Teams Are Getting Busy.

With the approach of the fall season the usual activity of preparation is resumed at the Y. M. C. A., this year coupled with the planning and preliminary work for the introduction of many new features in connection with the season's work.

The heads of the different departments and the members of the various committees are busily planning for the work before them and the next few weeks will be marked with many meetings and conclaves followed by the actual staging of the winter's work.

Educational Department. In the Educational department a thorough and well systematized plan of action will be adopted. General Secretary Patton will take a great part in this branch of the program.

It has been practically decided that classes will be taught in book-keeping, stenography and mechanical drawing and proficient instructors will be secured to administer the training. Salesmanship instruction is also considered. Classes will be put on in any branch where ten or more members can be secured.

The educational feature of the season's work will be one of the chief subjects of discussion at the meeting of the board of directors next Wednesday evening.

Junior Department.

A number of changes are being considered in the Junior department. It is the object of the Junior heads to separate this branch of the association from that of the Seniors, as far as possible, and to form it into a solid and distinct organization. As a means of localizing the management of the Juniors and centering their interest the Y. M. C. A. plans to bring the body directly under the control of a cabinet composed of its own older members and under the indirect supervision of Mr. Patton, Physical Director McClung and Mr. B. F. Toops.

A meeting of these officials with some of the older boys will be held next week and a cabinet organized.

Physical Department.

Perhaps the greatest activity in Y. M. C. A. work during the coming month will be noticed in the physical department and Director McClung will have his hands full as the prospects look good for a busy season.

Classes in calisthenics, apparatus, floor work and a basket ball team will be organized and preparation for indoor athletic contests will be made.

The material this year for a basket ball team looks good, and a number of the old members will be in the ring again. Drilling of the sub-squads will begin Tuesday night. All basket ball players and presumptives are expected to be on the floor.

The Women's Class.

A meeting of the officers of the class was held at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening and the reorganization of the class discussed at length. Its reappearance this season is practically certain. As the chairman, Miss Clara Thurston, was absent from Thursday's meeting another will be held next week and reorganization completed. The work of the class this year, as last, is planned to close with a physical exhibit. The class plans to conduct the training, as formerly, in the Armory hall.

Volley Ball.

The interest in volley ball has grown to such an extent in Washington that the forming of a volley ball league this winter is a matter of general demand.

The league this year will be under the direction of chosen officers and a meeting of volley ball men has been suggested for next Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. when plans will be perfected.

While the formal opening of the gym does not occur until October 1, preliminary work will start a week from next Wednesday and will continue each Wednesday and Friday night until the season opens.

The membership committee with each succeeding week, reports encouraging increases in the roll of members secured.

The Dormitory.

The Dormitory has been put in ship shape and with the attraction of convenient baths, rest rooms, library, well equipped rooms. A feature in connection with the dormitories, being considered for this year, is a dining club and the project has met with hearty enthusiasm among the dorm members.

NATURE DEALS BLOW TO JAPS

By Associated Press.

Tokio, August 28.—The commander of the first Japanese squadron has reported to the Navy Department that his torpedo flotilla ran into a typhoon. The boats were scattered and five men lost their lives as a result of the storm. The location of the fleet is not given.

HAVE THRILLING EXPERIENCES IN GERMAN EMPIRE

By Associated Press.

London, August 28.—John Watson Cox and Mrs. Cox, of New York, have arrived here and are the guests of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the American Secretary of State. Mrs. Cox said:

"We were motoring in Prussia

when war was declared and passed immediately into Germany where we were held up continually by the civil authorities. On August 3 at Weissenstadt, the officials leveled their guns at our chauffeur to stop the car. My husband showed our American passports, but these were disregarded by the officials who said they might have been forged. They took my husband to the police station where they kept him more than two hours. They tried to get me to leave the automobile but I refused, as I was afraid we would lose the machine.

"A hooting crowd gathered about the car, urging me to get out. There were no railroad trains and I told the crowd that I must keep the car as it was our only means of getting to Berlin. Women in the gathering sneeringly told me I could stay there until the war was over. After many similar experiences in small towns we arrived at Bayreuth. The attitude toward Americans changed when the order was promulgated from Berlin to treat Americans kindly. At Frankfurt and other places we were greeted with a display of American flags and given candy, fruit and flowers."

FOUR KILLED IN EXPLOSION

By Associated Press.

Eunice, La., August 28.—Four persons were killed and three others probably fatally injured today near Savol, La., when gasoline in a tank car of the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railroad exploded. The explosion occurred several hours after the tank car had been derailed in a wreck.

ILLUSION IN WEIGHT.

Blunders That Simply Prove a Person's Good Judgment.

Take a sofa pillow in one hand, balance it carefully until you think you have a right sense of its weight. Hold a large glass in the other hand and have some one pour water into it until you think it weighs about as much as the pillow. Then weigh the two and see how far out of the way you are.

Or take a cap in one hand and put in the other as many coins as you think may be needed to balance it. You will find your judgment far from correct.

Take two stone jars. Fill one with hot water and the other with cold and ask a friend to say which is the heavier of the two. The bottle with hot water will seem 25 per cent heavier.

Take three articles weighing the same. Put one on the ground, one on a table and one on a high shelf. Ask a friend to lift them and determine which of the three is the heaviest. He will pick the one on the shelf as the one which weighs the most every time.

The laws of illusion in weight are quite exact, and it is marvelous to see what a large proportion of people will make exactly the same mistake in exactly the same way. Thus the pillow seems lighter than it is because its appearance suggests lightness. Of two similar weights the one that is the larger in size will always seem the lighter. That is why the weight of the cap will be underestimated in the experiment just described.

Any change from normal temperature, either hot or cold, will appear to increase the temperature. A piece of ice the same weight as a glass of water will seem to weigh twice as much.

The extra exertion needed to sustain the weight of an object either above or below our natural reach seems to make it heavier, and for this reason the weight on the shelf will seem to have the advantage.

Does this show what poor judges we are? Not at all. It only proves our good judgment. It is like the sad case of the college student in a class on optics who could see through the illusions, so that matters which appeared crooked to the rest of the class, appeared straight to him. Instead of complimenting him on his discernment, the professor promptly expelled the student from the class on the ground that he was drunk. And he was!—New York American.

Old Time Bathing.

What would mixed bathers in England think of Blackpool as it was a little over a century ago? When ladies went to bathe a bell was rung to announce the fact, and any gentleman discovered on the parade after it had sounded was fined a bottle of wine. When the ladies had been bathed and completed their toilet the bell was rung a second time, and the gentlemen had their turn.—London Opinion.

New Zealand Nicknames.

New Zealand is described by its inhabitants as "the happiest country in the world." It is now a dominion. Some of the pretty names given to it by New Zealanders are "The Fortunate Isles," "The Wonderland of the Pacific," "All Lands in One" and "The Star of the South."

Diplomacy.

Lady—I'm afraid one foot is bigger than the other. Shopman—On the contrary, madam, one is perhaps smaller than the other.—London Opinion.

PRICE OF ORANGES TO BE REASONABLE

Oranges should be very cheap—at least reasonably—this winter. Apples and other fruits should also be lower in prices.

The war in Europe has in large measure cut off the demand for American fruit so the superabundance remaining at home ought to cheapen it very much.

ment of commerce show that during the year which ended June 30, fruit valued at $32,000,000 was shipped from the United States to Europe. The greater part of this was shipped to countries now engaged in the war so the war is sure to affect the exportation and make fruit cheaper at home.

There has been a growing demand in Europe for American fruits, especially oranges, apples and dried fruits, which have commanded good prices.
